Wallace On Spot In State Primary

. . . SAYS HE WON'T RUN

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Former Alabama Gov. George Wallace must set into motion within eight days the necessary machinery to form a third party in Nebraska, or face the prospect of bumping into President Johnson on the Democratic presidential primary ballot.

Wallace — an announced third party presidential candidate—was backed into a precarious political corner Wednesday by Republican Secretary of State Frank Marsh.

Marsh announced his intention to enter Wallace's name on the Democratic primary ballot May 14 along with the President and Minnesota Sen. Eugene McCarthy. (See story on Page 6.)

In Atlanta, Wallace told a news conference that he does not wish to be entered in any primary election and he is "not going to run in the primary" in Nebraska.

No Chance

The Alabaman said he has no chance of receiving the Democratic nomination, and he is not a candidate for it. "I am not a national Democrat," he noted.

But, in order to remove his name from Marsh's list, Wallace would be forced to file within 30 days an affidavit "stating without qualification that he is not now and does not intend to become a candidate for office of President of the United States at the forthcoming presidential election."

Since Wallace has already announced his presidential candidacy, that would be a difficult statement to make.

Change Of Heart

The only other route off the ballot would be a change of heart by Marsh — who can still add or subtract names from his list until March 15.

Marsh said he will remove Wallace's name as a Democratic candidate and place it on the ballot as a third party aspirant if Wallace supporters form a third party by March 5, the legal deadline date.

But, the secretary of state noted, statutes require that he be notified of intention to form a third party by Feb. 23, just eight days from now.

750 Signers

The signatures of at least 750 electors must be gathered at a third party convention to meet legal requirements to form a new party.

In Montgomery, Ala., a Wallace campaign aide, John DeCarlo, said possible plans to call such a convention in Nebraska are under active consideration "at this very moment."

If such a convention is called, Wallace may come to Nebraska to speak at the rally, DeCarlo told The Star by telephone.

Added Problem

If Wallace's name remains on the primary ballot as a Democrat, it may be impossible for him to gain entry on the general election ballot as a third party candidate, Marsh hinted.

That, he noted, is "a murky question" which would need to be determined by the attorney general.

Former Vice President Richard Nixon, Michigan Gov. George Romney, California Gov. Ronald Reagan and former Minnesota Gov. Harold Stassen will be on the Republican primary ballot.

Rocky Not Running

Marsh also named New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller to the GOP ticket, but the governor's Albany office promptly announced that he will sign an affidavit removing his name—and he will do so before the March 12 New Hampshire primary vote.

Stassen announced in New York City that he will come to Nebraska to campaign as a peace candidate, opposed to "the Johnson-Nixon war policy." Stassen won Nebraska primary elections in 1944 and 1948.

Nixon and Romney have already opened active campaigns in the state, and McCarthy is tentatively scheduled to visit Nebraska yet this month.

Won't Campaign

Reagan will not campaign in the state.

But, since he is California's favorite son candidate, neither will he remove his name from the ballot, his press secretary, Paul Beck, told reporters in Sacramento Wednesday.

If Wallace's name remains on the ballot, it will mark his first primary test. Reagan's first test comes in Wisconsin April 2.

Johnson and Nixon — the two strong favorites to win Nebraska's primary contests —chalked up their first "victory" at noon. Their names were the first drawn from Marsh's hat for ballot certification purposes.

McCook and Falls City reported very light snow for a brief period Wednesday night.

SAN ANTONIO FORMULA . . .

Rusk: Hanoi Still Says No

Washington (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Wednesday that North Vietnam has thus far rejected President Johnson's San Antonia formula for a peaceful settlement of the Vietnam war.

In a statement, Rusk said, "I must report that all explorations to date have resulted in a rejection."

The United States, Rusk continued, "is "not interested in propaganda gestures whose purpose is to mislead and confuse; we will be interested in a serious move toward peace when Hanoi comes to the conclusion that it is ready to move in that direction."

Knows How

"Hanoi knows how to get in touch with us," the statement noted.

Robert J. McCloskey, press officer for the State Department, read the secretary's statement to reporters.

Asked whether the statement was drafted with Rusk knowing what was in the most recent peace feelers through U.N. Secretary General U Thant and Italian Foreign Minister Amintore Fanfani, McCloskey replied that the statement "takes into account everything we know."

Rusk's statement said it was issued in reply to questions on "the connection between the possibility of negotiations for a peaceful settlement in Vietnam and the military operations now in progress."

Sept. 29, 1967

The San Antonio formula to which Rusk referred was contained in a speech Johnson made in the Texas city Sept. 29, 1967.

That speech set out that the United States "is willing to stop all aerial and naval bombardment of North Vietnam when this will lead promptly to productive discussions."

It continued: "We of course, assume that while discussions proceed North Vietnam would not take advantage of the bombing cessation or limitation."

Rusk, repeating that the North Vietnamese Communists have refused to reduce their aggression, said that "at no time has Hanoi indicated publicly or privately that it will refrain from taking military advantage of any cessation of the bombing of North Vietnam."

Jets Attempt To Batter Reds Holed Up In Hue

Saigon (AP) — U.S. Jets blasted Hue's historic Citadel for the second day Thursday after other American warplanes hit the Hanoi area with the heaviest strikes in six weeks.

The Marine jets roared down on the walls of the 19th century palace grounds with napalm and rockets, trying to open a path for U.S. Marine assault troops advancing with tear gas against remnants of a North Vietnamese regiment clinging tenaciously to heavily fortified positions along the southeast and northeast walls of the former imperial palace.

Bitter fighting raged inside the Citadel Wednesday night. In one heavy clash, Communist troops counter-attacked South Vietnamese infantrymen in an unsuccessful attempt to cut off a battalion from the other allied troops.

Joined Battle

The U.S. jets joined the battle for the Citadel for the first time Wednesday, hammering the walls with 2.75-inch rockets and napalm. But field reports said the ground force made almost no progress.

Meanwhile waves of U.S. warplanes swept through clearing skies over North Vietnam Wednesday to pound two airfields and a bridge just outside Hanoi with 1½-ton bombs and wrecked four of the missile sites in the protective ring around the Communist capital.

The U.S. Command did not announce the total number of missions immediately, but said it was the biggest attack on the Hanoi area since Jan. 4.

U.S. spokesman announced earlier that two MIG17 jets had been shot down in the raids.

The airfields hit were at Phuc Yen, 18 miles northwest of Hanoi, and Hoa Lac, 20 miles west of the capital. Pilots reported several secondary explosions at both fields.

The Thai Nguyen thermal power plant, a frequent target, was struck again, but smoke and dust prevented an appraisal of damage, the spokesman said. Navy pilots hammered boat repair docks 10 miles east of Haiphong, North Vietnam's major port city.

North Vietnamese gunners around Khe Sanh slammed 200 rounds of artillery, rocket and mortar fire into the Marine compound over a 24-hour period, killing one man and wounding nine.

Round-The-Clock

American fliers maintained round-the-clock attacks in support of the 5,000-man garrison.

B52 Stratofortresses staged four raids on suspected enemy troop concentrations and gun positions. Tactical jets of the Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps flew 200 sorties — single combat flights — in that area Tuesday.

From Hue, North Vietnamese forces were reported holding out in one area along the northeast wall and in another along the southwest wall of the citadel. The position in the southwest has not been blocked off, he said, and still can be resupplied and reinforced.

The North Vietnamese were reported using great quantities of B40 rockets in their resistance, and were finding them highly effective in holding off allied troops.

The enemy soldiers are burrowed into ancient but still excellent fortifications. The citadel is surrounded by two walls, each about 20 feet high and about four feet thick. Between them is a lane wide enough for a jeep. The battlements are studded with massive firing positions and watchtowers.

Future Job Center Use Still Uncertain

Future federal use of facilities at the Lincoln Job Corps Center remained "uncertain" after a series of continuing conferences in Washington, J. O. Grantham said Wednesday.

Grantham is vice president of Northern Systems Company, the subsidiary of Northern Natural Gas Company which operates the center.

Grantham said he met with officials of the Department of Labor and the Department of Commerce to discuss possible future participation in other federal programs, including manpower training projects.

Use of Lincoln center facilities is being considered, he said.

"We are still uncertain at the moment whether something can be worked out," Grantham noted.

The Job Corps center will be closed next month.

Efforts are being made to utilize the top members of the Lincoln center training staff in other federal programs, The Associated Press reported from Washington.

AP reported that an aide to Vice President Hubert Humphrey has received a list of possibly 50 leading Northern personnel who have been involved in the Lincoln operation.

Two possibilities are being weighed, the vice president's aide said:

—utilization of the Lincoln Job Corps training staff in other programs in other cities.

—use of the Lincoln center for other purposes.

North Korean Violence Hit

. . . MARATHONS WIND UP

Seoul (AP)—The U.S. government promised President Chung Hee Park Thursday that it would consult immediately with his government whenever North Korean actions threaten the security of South Korea.

Winding up four days of marathon meetings and tough bargaining, Park and U.S. presidential envoy Cyrus Vance in a joint communique condemned the "increasingly aggressive and violent actions of the North Korean Communists over the past 14 months in violation of the armistice agreement."

Vance and Park pledged their governments to act immediately to determine what actions should be taken under their mutual defense treaty should acts of Communist aggression continue.

The two governments also agreed their defense ministers would meet annually to discuss common defense and security problems.

Vance had his second meeting with Park only 3½ hours after emerging from an all-night meeting with South Korean Foreign Minister Choi Kyu-hah. The session was also attended by U.S. Ambassador William J. Porter and Vice Foreign Minister Chin Pil-shik.

Demand Not Met

Park and his ministers had demanded that the United States commit itself to "immediate retaliatory measures jointly with the Republic of Korea" in the event of a major Communist attack. But the pledge to consult immediately was as far as the United States would go.

The communique indicated Vance had rejected reported South Korean requests for increased military muscle, including more and better naval and air equipment.

The South Koreans have complained that the United States is paying too much attention to the Pueblo incident and not enough to South Korea's security.

Dislike Exclusion

They also dislike being excluded from the talks at Panmunjom by which the United States is trying to win release of the Pueblo crewmen.

North Korea told American negotiators Wednesday that there would be war unless "you take your bloody hands off Korea and withdraw from South Korea."

Maj. Gen. Pak Chung Kook of North Korea was replying to a U.S. charge at a military Armistice Commission meeting that the Communists had sent commandos into Seoul to try to murder President Chung Hee Park Jan. 21 and had committed 73 other serious violations of the truce in the past 44 days.

"The decision whether there is peace or hostility depends upon the whim of an apparently irresponsible North Korea," declared Rear Adm. John V. Smith, senior U.N. commission representative.

Have You Been Getting Lots Of Static? Probably!

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

It's been a shocking year so far.

That is, the average humidity has been unusually low recently, and static electricity has kept Lincolnites recoiling from sparks in their cars and homes.

Last Monday the relative humidity stayed under 20% most of the day, abnormally low for this area, commented Gordon Lippert of the Lincoln Weather Bureau.

The humidity readings this month to date, taken in the early afternoons, average only about 43%. This compares to a long-term average for Lincoln of 67% at approximately the same time of day, according to State Climatologist Richard Myers.

Moisture in the air has risen significantly over 50% only once in February.

The relative humidity during January has been slightly below a long-term average of 67% for readings taken at noon.

If the temperature had been up to 75 degrees last Monday, the humidity would have registered virtually zero, Lippert explained.

Homes without humidifiers, probably were near that level that particular day.

Lippert indicated that the optimum humidity range in a home is between 40 and 60%.

He blamed the unusually dry air on recently westerly winds which tend to warm and dry out as they drop in elevation, moving across the plains from the mountains.

The last snow disappeared almost three weeks ago so that there is virtually no moisure from the ground being put into the air, he noted.

So far this year Lincoln has had only .34 inch of precipitation, compared with a normal 1.36 inch.

'Terrific Housing Message' Due

. . . $2 BILLION EXPECTED TO BE ASKED BY LBJ

Miami Beach, Fla. (AP) — President Johnson, in a move to meet the threat of rioting in the nation's cities, will ask Congress for $2 billion to clear slums and build low-income housing, an informed AFL-CIO labor source said Wednesday.

"It's going to be a terrific housing message," said one source. Johnson will probably send the housing message to Congress next week, or by the end of the month at the latest, he added.

Top AFL-CIO officials meeting here, including President George Meany, knew of the President's plans in pledging labor's cooperation Tuesday in the federal model cities program, it was learned.

Slum Rebuilding

Johnson will ask Congress for $1 billion to expand the now largely experimental model cities program into large-scale rebuilding of big city slums, the sources said.

The President will propose another $1 billion to immediately expand construction of low-income units from about 50,000 a year now to 250,000.

In the second year, construction would rise to 500,000 low-income units a year and to 700,000 in the third year under Johnson's proposal, the sources added.

The presidents of 18 AFL-CIO building trades unions Tuesday pledged their help in solving labor problems stemming from the proposed federal housing program. They also promised to work actively with civil rights groups to recruit Negro youths into their 8,500 union locals across the nation.

Sharp Turnabout

This was a sharp turnabout for the building trades, which for years have been the target of racial discrimination complaints. In the past, while denying racial bias, the unions have largely lapsed into a defensive silence in the face of such charges.

"It is not only socially desirable to train these people but we need them, too," said a union spokesman of the new promise to take in more Negroes.

The expectation of a big federal housing program that would sharply increase jobs for union members lies in part behind the pledge against discrimination.

"Obviously, it will create a manpower shortage," a building trades source said of federal plans to rebuild big city slums.

Jets Bomb Citadel To Root Out Communists

(C) New York Times News Service

Saigon — Navy and Marine jets repeatedly bombed Hue's citadel even though it surrounds the old imperial palace and is considered one of Vietnam's best-known historic relics. The citadel's 20-foot-thick walls protect the Communists' last major stronghold in a South Vietnamese city. "We're planning on blowing the walls down," an officer said, "if that's what it takes to get Charlie out of there." (Another story on Page 1)

World News

Paris — United Nations secretary-General U Thant conferred for more than an hour Wednesday with Mai Van Bo, Hanoi's chief representative in Europe, and then discussed Vietnam and the Middle East in separate long meetings with President Charles de Gaulle and Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

In spite of the dramatic nature of the secretary general's surprise visit to Paris, the prevailing mood among diplomatic observers was one of pessimism.

North Vietnamese sources Wednesday night merely said Thant's remarks to Bo had been transmitted to Hanoi.

After the visitor had completed his rounds, French officials said they felt the outlook for early negotiations between Washington and Hanoi seemed less favorable than it had been at the beginning of the year.

They cited the continued escalation of both sides as the reason for their growing concern — the American decision to resume bombing targets in and around Hanoi and Haiphong and to send 10,500 more troops to Vietnam as well as the two-week-old Viet Cong offensive in the South.

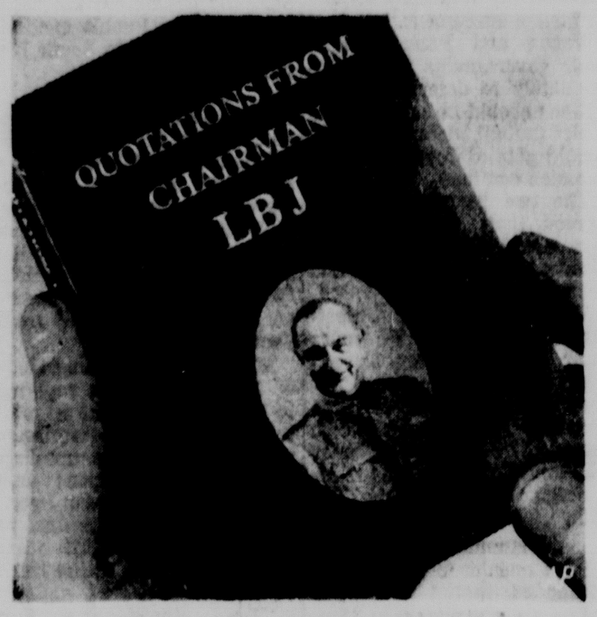

Informed sources described Thant as sharing the French gloom.

His decision to include Paris in his itinerary was made only Tuesday night, in London.

According to informed sources in Paris, the meeting with Bo was arranged at Thant's request by a North Vietnamese journalist, Nguyen Van Sao, who lives in London and is regarded as a representative of Bo.

Thant, according to these reports, had submitted certain questions to North Vietnam's consul general in New Delhi last week. The questions had been forwarded to Hanoi and Bo had been instructed to convey some of the answers.

Authorized sources said these questions and answers revolved around the same complex issues that had been the crux of the stalemate between Washington and Hanoi for months — namely North Vietnam's insistence on an unconditional end to U.S. bombing and U.S. request for assurances that the bombing halt would not be used by the Communists to increase troop movements into South Vietnam.

Hot Spot Force Said Badly Drained By Viet Boost

© New York Times Service

By NEIL SHEEHAN

Washington — President Johnson's decision to rush 10,500 more Army and Marine infantrymen to South Vietnam has seriously depleted this country's already strained force of active, strategic reserve divisions.

In the event of another emergency outside Vietnam, the Army would not have even one complete infantry division ready for immediate deployment overseas.

The depletion of the active strategic reserve, military sources believe, has now reached the point where Johnson may soon have to order a limited mobilization, bring back troops from Europe or take actions such as an involuntary extension of enlistments.

Rules Bent

In order to make available the 10,500 men for Vietnam, the Army and Marine Corps had to violate the rule that Vietnam veterans will not be sent back to the war zone without an intervening two years in the U.S. or in a non-hardship area such as Europe.

Roughly 40% of both major units involved, a brigade of the 82nd Airborne Division from Ft. Bragg, N.C., and the 27th Regimental Landing Team from the 5th Marine Division at Camp Pendleton, Calif., will be composed of Vietnam veterans.

The 298,000-man Marine Corps was already under great strain to provide replacements for the force of 79,000 Marines now in Vietnam and the arrival of the 27th Regiment will add 6,000 more to this burden.

Inability

Marine officers said they would not be able to maintain this higher level of 85,000 men in Vietnam without mobilizing the reserve 4th Marine Division or taking severe personnel actions.

The administration is supposed to maintain the equivalent of six and two thirds Army and Marine divisions in the United States for deployment overseas in an emergency outside Vietnam.

To provide Gen. William C. Westmoreland with the 45,000 man increase he was authorized by Johnson last July, however, the 11th Infantry Brigade and the two remaining U.S.-based brigades of the 101st Airborne Division—the equivalent of one Army division—had to be withdrawn from the strategic reserve and shipped to Vietnam in December.

6th Infantry Not Ready

These units are eventually to be replaced by a new Army infantry division, the 6th, but it was activated in November and will not be ready for combat for at least seven months.

The 82nd Airborne was the last complete infantry division the Army had retained in the United States for deployment in case of a second emergency. Not it will be reduced to two thirds of its strength.

The Army still has three other complete divisions, the 1st and 2nd Armored Divisions at Ft. Hood, Tex., and the 5th Mechanized Division at Ft. Carson, Colo., which could be rapidly deployed overseas.

But the nature of these divisions clearly limits their principal utility to combat in Europe or the Middle East. They would be of limited use in Korea and clearly unsuitable for an emergency in Latin America, such as the Dominican crisis of 1965.

For contingencies such as these, infantrymen are required.

Chinese MIGs Down Straying U.S. Plane

Washington (AP) — Red Chinese MIG aircraft attacked two unarmed American planes which strayed near Communist Hainan Island Tuesday night. One was shot down; the other fled to Da Nang, South Vietnam.

The Pentagon, announcing this Wednesday, said the two U.S. Navy propeller-driven A1 Skyraiders inadvertently strayed into Hainan's airspace because of navigational difficulties.

Peking Radio, in a broadcast monitored in Tokyo, charged the United States with carrying out "war provocacations."

Doesn't Know

At the Pentagon, Asst. Defense Secretary Phil G. Goulding said he did not know whether the second plane which escaped had been damaged or whether its pilot was injured.

Several hours later, however, the Pentagon said the plane was not damaged and the pilot was unharmed.

Goulding said this pilot "reports he last saw the other plane in a vertical dive and smoking."

Red China claims territorial waters out to 12 miles from its coastline. The same limit applies to its airspace.

The slow-flying Skyraiders—no match for the supersonic MIG—were on a ferry flight from the Philippines to the air craft carrier Coral Sea, in the Tonkin Gulf.

The carrier launches fighter-bombers on raids against North Vietnam.

Only a few days ago another A1 Skyraider came within a few miles of overflying Hainan but turned back apparently without incident.

Dominican University Surrounded

Santo Domingo (AP) — Dominican Republic armed forces ringed the National University Wednesday after a civilian was killed and two policemen were wounded in an exchange of gunfire with students.

Another confrontation was averted, however, when an agreement on evacuation of the campus was reached by university and government officials.

Official sources said students entrenched on university grounds had been given an ultimatum to surrender or the troops would move in.

The Communist-led disturbances were touched off when the government of President Joaquin Balaguer refused to allow a student protest march on the National Palace to accentuate demands for increased state subsidies to the university.

Nebraskan Is Recipient Of Farmer-Feeder Title

. . . Trophy Given To Weitzenkamp

Minneapolis—The nation's Farmer-Feeder of the Year is Walt Weitzenkamp, an eastern Nebraskan, who received his trophy at the National Livestock Feeders Association convention now under way in Minneapolis.

His citation points out that Weitzenkamp averted near disaster with management skill, courage and determination and went on to become one of the Cornbelt's most outstanding farmers and beef cattle feeders.

Weitzenkamp and his family grow 1,050 acres of corn and milo near Nebraska's Dodge-Cuming county line and use these feedstuffs to finish 1,375 tons of beef on the hoof annually.

The Weitzenkamp farming and feeding operation combines the most efficient methods of turning roughage and feed grains into the production of high quality beef, it was disclosed. This combination was put together one element at a time by deleting marginal practices and replacing them with better methods, it was explained.

2,500 Calves On Feed

The Nebraskan owns 657 acres and rents 520. Of all this land, only 40 acres are in crops other than corn and milo.

Of 2,500 calves on feed, 1,750 are at the home farm and 750 at the farm where a son, Harlan, lives. Another son, Melvin, is involved fulltime in the Weitzenkamp enterprises. Other help comes from a third son, Jim, a 15-year-old high schooler, and from a fulltime employe.

2 Boys Accused Of Stealing Cars Sent To Prison

Kearney (AP)—Two boys who fled from the Boys Training School and were accused of stealing two cars before they were apprehended near Winner, S.D., have been sentenced to the Nebraska Penal Complex.

District Judge S. S. Sidner imposed sentences of one to two years each on Lyle Capellan, 16, of Ravenna and Daryl Todd, 15, of Loup City, on charges of auto theft.

The two were among five who fled at one time and 10 who left the minimum-security establishment over the weekend of Feb. 3-4. The others were speedily caught and returned, but Capellan and Todd were accused of stealing cars at Riverdale and Mason City during their flight.

He is survived by his wife and 12 children.

Bones Of Human Skeleton Found In South Omaha

Omaha (AP)—Parts of a human skeleton unearthed by a bulldozer in South Omaha were turned over to police and medical specialists were attempting to determine how long the bones hab been buried.

One policeman speculated that the skeleton may have been buried at least 50 years.

Mrs. James J. Treveer said her sons, Steven, 7, and David, 5, first brought some of the bones to their home about two weeks ago. She said she and her husband kept the bones as they hunted and found the others.

The unmarked grave was on a hilltop near Fourth and Martha Streets, about 70 feet from the Treveer home.

14 Rock Island Cars Derailed In Central Iowa

Earlham, Iowa (AP)—Fourteen cars of a Rock Island freight train derailed Wednesday morning on the company's main track three miles east of Earlham in central Iowa. There were no injuries.

The derailment ripped up 500 feet of track, forcing cancellation of Rock Island's No. 10 passenger train between Omaha, Neb., and Council Bluffs and Chicago, a company spokesman said.

Ten of the derailed cars were loaded with such nonperishable items as wool, plywood and pipe, the spokesman said, while the other cars were empty.

The 108-car freight train was bound for Chicago from Council Bluffs. Cause of the derailment was under investigation.

ABBOUD . . . prison term begins.

Abboud Enters State Prison; Sentences Total Two Years

Omaha (AP) — Ronald J. Abboud, 33, was taken to Nebraska State Penal Complex from Douglas County jail Wednesday afternoon.

The Omaha real estate man was to begin serving prison sentences totaling two years in connection with the bribery case in 1964 in which he was charged with aiding and abetting in soliciting or agreeing to receive a bribe.

Chicago developer John B. Coleman contended he had been asked for a bribe in connection with his efforts to obtain rezoning of a tract of land for a town house development. Former Mayor James J. Dworak was acquitted of the charges but two city councilmen were convicted along with Abboud.

Abboud's attorney, Richard Bruckner, said he has filed a mandamus action in the State Supreme Court asking that the District Court be compelled to continue bond on Abboud pending the outcome of a petition under the 1965 Nebraska Post Conviction Act.

Bruckner said the court had taken the request under advisement. District Judge John E. Murphy earlier refused the bond application.

Because of the bond motion, Abboud was not taken to Lincoln Wednesday morning after he surrendered. He was to have gone Thursday.

Sheriff Ted Janing said, however, Abboud complained of feeling ill Wednesday afternoon so it was decided to take him to the penal complex where he would be closer to medical aid.

Morrison Dismisses Speculation He's In Line For Post With AID

Omaha (AP) — Former Gov. Frank Morrison said Wednesday he's available to be drafted by President Johnson in any area in which he might be needed "the same as any other citizen."

But he dismissed published speculation that he might be in line for a part-time job with the Agency for International Development.

His interest, he said, has nothing to do with a job. "I'm a practicing lawyer, and that's it," he said.

Morrison said he had discussed with State Department people some time ago the possibility of aiding in the war on hunger and said he has a deep interest in this field.

"I'm convinced we're not going to defeat Communism simply by military means," he said. "We must eliminate the causes and one of the chief causes is hunger and starvation."

Morrison said the nations of the world need to be mobilized to fight the war againt hunger, declaring that when children are starving, it ceases to be simply a political or economic issue, it is a moral issue.

Bradshaw Given Planning Funds

The Nebraska Department of Economic Development announced Wednesday receipt of a $3,054 federal urban planning assistance grant to aid the village of Bradshaw with its comprehensive planning program. The grant will be supplemented by $1,527 in local funds.

CANADIAN WHISKY — A BLEND · 80 PROOF · IMPORTED BY NATIONAL DISTILLERS PRODUCTS CO., NEW YORK

Elegant tradition:
The smoothest whisky ever to come out of Canada!

Tonight serve Windsor Canadian: the remarkable, sippin'-smooth Canadian that's already changing thousands of Americans' ideas on the whisky to serve.

Now compare Windsor! Pour two drinks—highballs or over ice—one with your usual, one with Windsor Canadian. Notice the superior smoothness and the flavor of Windsor.

That's because no other custom-distilled whisky shares these three extraordinary features:

1. Only Windsor Canadian is made from choicest northern prairie grains, bursting with fresh flavor.

2. Only Windsor Canadian is born of icy mountain glacial water drawn pure and clear from underground streams.

3. Only Windsor Canadian is aged in the incredibly dry air of Canada's Rockies. Where, nearly a mile high, it gentles to sippin'-smooth perfection.

Yet it costs no more than leading domestic whiskies, because we import Windsor Canadian, then bottle it here. Thus saving on duties and other charges. Compare the price and the smoothness of Windsor. Once you do, you'll never settle for less or pay more. That's tradition for you!

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

It is a real shame that every citizen of Nebraska cannot have and take advantage of an opportunity to hear the tax information presentation made by the Extension Service of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

The presentation is being made in 10 seminars throughout the state this week. A graph taken from the NU study is reproduced at the bottom of this column. It is important because it shows what could happen if the state income tax were repealed according to current petition drives.

If the income tax is knocked out and state spending stayed the same, the sales tax would have to be fixed at an estimated rate of 5 per cent. On this basis, a family of four with an income of $2,000 a year would pay $94 in sales taxes, or 4.70 per cent of its income.

At the other end of the scale, the same family of four with a $20,000-a-year income would pay $316 or 1.58 per cent of its income. Obviously, this is a regressive tax, falling more heavily on low rather than high-income groups.

Another chart reproduced in a recent news story demonstrates the equity of the combination tax we have. The combination sales and income tax has everyone paying at least a little something and is slightly progressive in terms of income.

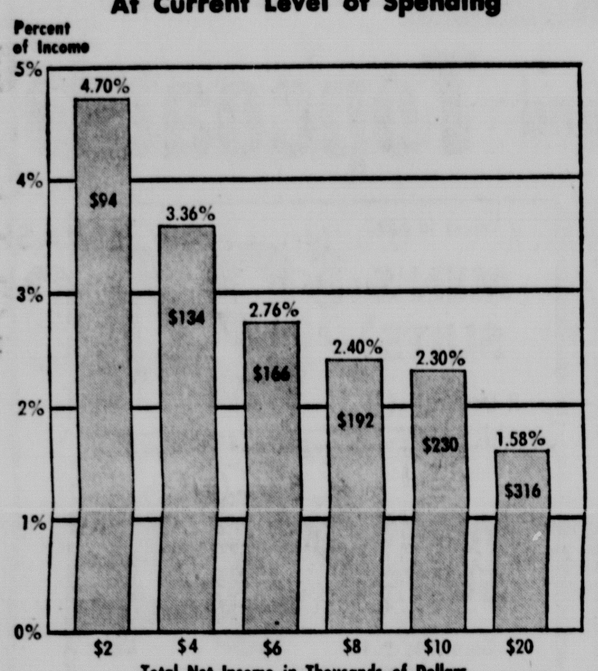

These charts alone should convince Nebraskans that they would have a most difficult time coming up with any better or more practical system of taxation than we now have.

The only purpose in seeking to eliminate the income tax would be to reduce state spending. This could happen because it is impractical to believe that state government could be financed as it should be with the sales tax alone.

But the content of the NU analysis makes you wonder where the cutting would take place. Education, for instance, takes 38.9 per cent of state spending and highways take another 24 per cent.

We doubt that the people of Nebraska want to be niggardly in either of these categories but there would be no alternative if spending had to be reduced. Such facts should cause people to give careful consideration to signing any petition against the income tax.

At Current Level of Spending

"The Robe Will Hardly Show"

Marsh Picks A Ballot

Secretary of State Frank Marsh has picked the candidates for Nebraska's preferential presidential primary May 14. In doing so, he probably made Democratic officials unhappy. Placed on their party ticket will be former Gov. George Wallace of Alabama who is avoided by both parties like the plague.

The peculiarity in the selection is found in the fact that Wallace is an announced third-party candidate. Marsh reasoned that since he was a candidate but his party was not established in Nebraska, Wallace should go on the Democratic ticket since he has been a life-long Democrat.

But it is doubtful that Democrats in general will agree with Marsh. They will persist in explaining that Wallace is not a Democrat since he is the nominee of his American Independent Party. If the nominee of that party, how can he be a possible nominee of another party? It would seem rather doubtful that Wallace could be the nominee of more than one party.

Republicans may not be totally satisfied with Marsh's selection of Nixon, Reagan, Rockefeller and Romney for the GOP ticket but who else could logically be added or which of the four could honestly be eliminated?

But even on the GOP side, sheer quantity is a questionable matter. With four names on the ballot, just what kind of a test do we really have? The whole affair again causes us to wonder about the validity of the primary we have contrived.

That primary does not bind Nebraska delegates to the national convention. Additionally, the large number of candidates who could be listed on the ballot so diffuses the vote of the people that it fails to be a true test of any single one of them.

Quickies

Editorials by paragraph:

—Federal tax laws provide a break for peop.e who are blind and for people who are married. Are they trying to tell us something?

—Why doesn't somebody make basketball coaches sit down and shut up?

—President Johnson's call for a new anti-riot law that would make it a felony to cross state lines to incite or take part in riots should have the wholehearted backing of Dick Gregory. He pointedly pointed out in Lincoln last fall that the law will affect a lot of white college kids who go to Fort Lauderdale every spring.

—Will the Olympics never end?

—We've been in Vietnam since 1954 and would you believe that not even Saigon is secure yet? And that makes predictions of military victory just a bit tough to believe.

—Let's all watch Congress, which applauded so loudly when President Johnson attacked crime in the streets, to see how it handles his request for 100 additional FBI agents and a boost from $50 million to $100 million in the safe streets bill. Applause is cheap. Let's see how they vote.

—The controversy has died down, but there are still an awful lot of improperly marked railroad crossings in Lincoln. Who will be the next to die?

JAMES RESTON

Analogies Into The Past

WASHINGTON — Every president likes to think of himself as the successor to Mr. Lincoln, and Lyndon Johnson is certainly no exception. Unable to find consolation in the news, he is seeking it in history. Troubled by the divisions in the nation, he keeps turning more and more to the agonizing divisions of the past.

This was quite evident this week when Mr. Johnson stood in the freezing sunshine at the Lincoln Memorial and invited historical parallels between the gloomy days of the Civil War and the melancholy military problems of today.

"For we live in a time that Lincoln would have well understood," President Johnson said. "He heard the charges that the war was long and wrong. He saw Americans die — 600,000 of them — and he brooded. He saw dissent, riot and rebellion. He saw heavy taxes and inflation. He saw hunger and poverty. Sad but steady — always convinced of his cause — he stuck it out. Sad but steady, so will we."

Nobody can deny a harassed and determined President whatever solace he can get out of the uncertain analogies of history. He is going through a hard and bitter time, and maybe the historians will decide after all that he was right and redeem the terrible sacrifices of Vietnam.

And yet, for Lyndon Johnson these recurring references to Mr. Lincoln and the other great men of the past seem to be taking on something more than a natural longing for consolation in a trouble time. Indeed, they seem to be used, not merely to console him in his disappointments but to justify him in all his decisions, and that is quite a different matter.

☆ ☆ ☆

We are invited in the sad-but-steady quote to accept the concept of President Johnson carrying on under much the same pressures and in much the same spirit as President Lincoln in the War between the States. The fact that Mr. Lincoln was fighting an American civil war in which he was terrified of foreign intervention, whereas Mr. Johnson is intervening in a conflict that has at least some elements of another nation's civil war —all this is ignored in the dubious analogy.

More and more, the President and his principal aides, particularly Secretary of State Rusk, have been falling into the habit of self-pity which occasionally borders on self-delusion. And more and more the justification for present policies lies not in demonstrating that the policies are right and the critics wrong, but in the sad reflection that other great men were misunderstood and villified in the past.

President Johnson praised President Lincoln this week for the clarity of his vision, and this is precisely the issue at the present time. Will this policy in Vietnam bring about the unity and promote the ideals, and "bind up the wounds," as Mr. Johnson undoubtedly hopes it will? Is Vietnam really promoting "that revolutionary American dream of human dignity and equality for all," as Mr. Johnson implied?

This is the difficulty with these historical analogies with their bitter asides about those who "open wounds and rub them raw in their frustration and troubles."

☆ ☆ ☆

Many of the people condemned by President Johnson have conceded that he may be right, but he leaves no room for the possibility that he may be wrong. In some strange way, the people who oppose the killing are characterized as "moral isolationists" who are hurting their country, whereas those who want more and more war are "sad but steady" patriots like Lincoln.

This is a dangerous procedure. For if you do not argue the case as it is, and take refuge in the sorrows and dissents of other men in other times, it is possible to justify almost anything.

Is there bloodshed? Well, there has been bloodshed before. Are civilians slaughtered by the hundreds? Mr. Lincoln brooded about this, too. Is there bitter dissent and division in the land. Never mind, General Washington and Mr. Lincoln suffered through and were redeemed in the end.

All this consoling rhetoric is understandable and very human, but it does not get us very far along the road. It merely justifies the present policies, and somehow they do not quite have the noble spirit of the Great Emancipator.

LA VERNA HASSLER

Patchwork Prairie Country

Squirrels are wary creatures when they suspect they are being watched by man. When they are viewed through a picture window, they are hilarious.

Today I watched three or four — I never did establish an accurate count — slipping into position, then circling an oak tree. With a great flurry of tails, first one then another flipped to the other side of the trunk. Down to the ground I would see a rolling ball of fur tumble while another scurried along the bare branches higher in the tree. Another soon followed out on a limb where it clung for a moment squeaking, then dropping to the limb below it, it finished its loud serenade. They were chattering, springing, clinging and spilling all around the oak tree, often leaving no more than their frisking tails arched over their backs to be seen.

This mid-winter play continued for half an hour or more before they all disappeared in the midst of excitement. They caught sight of the neighbor's dog down the lane and didn't wish to mix company with him.

The cold came in quickly and solidly last night after a week or more of above freezing temperatures both day and night. The Farmer does not like to see February days with mild temperatures as it makes the wheat begin growth prematurely. Many of the fields are showing a green spring-like renewal of growth which could be winter killed with subzero temperatures.

Moving day on the farms used to be March first, with family possessions packed and gingerly moved down the road to another site. That does not hold true to such an extent as it once did although there is some shifting of families at this time. Moving day now comes in the fall, summer or winter, whenever the farmer finds another line of work that pays a better return for his labor than farming. Often farm families leave reluctantly, staying a year longer than they can afford to, hoping the next year will be better.

I noted in a recent farm count two thousand families have left the farms in the past year in Nebraska. The future looks much more difficult for the coming year. Farm machinery prices continue to rise.

When I was a girl, four families lived on the section of land where the family is still located. All of the families provided a high school education for their children which was at that time an effort. Roads were blocked with snow in the winter and in the spring they were almost impassable with seemingly no bottom to the mud and mire.

Today my father is the only one living on that same section of land. It can no longer provide a living for four families. Farming must now be done on a larger scale with larger machinery.

Young rural youth are leaving the farms in larger numbers than ever before where their hours are not from daylight until dark and they see a pay check every month for their labor. Parents likewise are telling them to seek their fortune elsewhere. It is a grim situation to come to the end of a year and find the farming operation has lost the family money . . . money that could have been spent in providing education for the younger ones or an improvement to the farm itself. No longer does the old saying hold true, "You keep the farm and the farm will keep you."

Truth-Lending Bill Has Hearty Backer

WASHINGTON — The fact that Congresswoman Lenore Sullivan of St. Louis always wanted children had a lot to do with the fact that American housewives who buy on the installment plan will be paying less. Or at least they will know exactly what they are paying, which they don't today.

It was Mrs. Sullivan, D-Mo., who put all her restless energy which otherwise would have been devoted to children behind the passage of the truth-in-lending act. She carried on after Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, who had battled for the bill since 1960, was defeated.

For years both have argued that American consumers have a right to know the truth about the interest rates they paid on goods sold on credit. They have a right to know, for instance, that the alluring "1.5 per cent a month" interest with which many stores advertise their "revolving credit" actually comes out to 18 per cent a year. They also have a right to be protected from garnishment of wages when they fall behind with payments. Many a struggling housewife has suddenly found her husband's wages cut off without notice because a heavy installment payment has not been met.

Mrs. Sullivan got into Congress by accident. But it's no accident that she has stayed there. Her husband, a Democratic congressman from St. Louis, died 17 years ago, and somewhat reluctantly she decided to fill his shoes.

"It was the toughest battle I've ever been in," Mrs. Sullivan said, referring to the truth-in-lending legislative battle.

Opposition came chiefly from retailers and department stores. The American Bankers Association was for it. At the last minute two retail giants, Spiegel and Montgomery Ward, agreed to accept the bill. This broke the ice.

After it was all over, Mrs. Sullivan was showered with victory congratulations. But the one she is proudest of came from the bill's original author, ex-Sen. Paul Douglas, who wrote: "God bless you, dear lady, for your work and bravery. It could not have been done without you. There are millions who will rise up and call you blessed."

NOTE: When Mrs. Sullivan was first elected to Congress in 1952, there were 17 women members of Congress. In the 16 years that have passed, the number has diminished to only 11. This, she says, is not progress.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Administration Bitter Over What It Claims Is Distortion Of Reporting Out Of Vietnam

WASHINGTON—Both the President and his vice president are putting all their great powers of persuasion into convincing Congress and the public that the communist assault beginning two weeks ago on Vietnam's cities was a failure. Chapter and verse are recited with a passionate conviction to prove (1) that the main objective of the assault, a popular uprising in the South, failed and (2) that the Thieu-Ky government is holding in spite of the shock and dismay among the populace in the cities.

In the private performance, as contrasted with the public exercise in persuasion, strong resentment of the pessimism coloring many interpretations of the assault comes out. So intense is the feeling that it suggests a crisis of confidence as between the news media and the administration. The reporting out of Vietnam distorts the facts and lends credence to the gloom of the critics of the war; this is the implication in the bitterness —it is not less than that — over a despairing assessment of the future as against the official hope and optimism.

Twice during the past two years Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has gone to Saigon to rally opinion in Vietnam and here at home. He is seriously considering a third mission in the near future to show the ardent belief of the administration in the survival of the Thieu government and its effective prosecution of the war, once the disarray and the destruction of the recent attack have been overcome.

Of the complaint about the distorted reporting out of Vietnam, two conspicuous examples are cited. One is the emphasis in the past two weeks on the part played by American troops in expelling the invaders. The facts show, it is argued, quite the contrary. Ninety per cent of the counterattack aimed at pushing the invaders out of Saigon, Hue and the provincial capitals was carried out by ARVN, the Army of the Republic of Vietnam. Along with this goes the accusation that American reporting consistently downgrades the number of high-ranking ARVN officers killed in action — far exceeding the number of high-ranking American officers.

The second example is comparatively minor but significant in terms of emotional American reaction. News stories told of seriously wounded Vietnamese civilians brought into hospitals already over-crowded and undermanned. Humphrey's feeling is especially strong on this score. With members of his staff he has worked incessantly to try to insure proper hospital care for wounded and sick civilians. He has heard the President repeatedly quiz Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara on this point and has repeatedly heard McNamara say there were adequate facilities.

Of course in the first onslaught when so many hundreds, if not thousands, were wounded and cut up by Viet Cong terrorists, hospitals were so crowded that patients were lying in the halls and anywhere that space could be found. Wounded Americans who could be moved were flown to the Philippines and Okinawa. Eventually 6,000 beds were available and the civilian wounded were given adequate hospital care.

The sharp disparity between the official American view in Saigon and the view of veteran American reporters covering the war is brought out in the case of Senator X, who could be any one of five or more recent visitors. The senator is a guest of Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker. He gets a round of official briefings (this was prior to the assault on the cities). The war is being won. It is not stalemated. The South Vietnamese are giving a good account of themselves. The Thieu government is moving—slowly, but moving—to carry out much-needed reforms.

Then the senator has dinner with five or six reporters. He gets exactly the opposite picture. The war cannot be won. It is stalemated. Corruption and favoritism are so rampant that the government cannot possibly win any widespread popular support from a cynical and war-weary people.

The senator is, to say the least, torn by these conflicting views. He may want to believe the official version of Bunker and Gen. William C. Westmoreland. But he is shaken, and if he had dovish leanings when he came out, he is likely to accept the correspondents' view rather than that of the official expounders.

This is the first war in modern times in which censorship of the press has not been applied. That word "censorship" creeps in, however, although it seems impossible since it would have to be carried out by South Vietnam, which is a sovereign nation. And American news media, already smarting under such actions as the expulsion of Newsweek's Everett Martin, would certainly fight back against censorship by the South Vietnamese. One high administration official pressed in a briefing with reporters about intelligence and other failures finally responded: "Which side are you on?"

Report Urges Steam Heat Rate Hike

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

An engineering report presented to the City Power Advisory Board Wednesday recommended that steam heat rates be increased, initially 25%, in order to maintain a "suitable steam production plant" and to rebuild the existing underground steam distribution system.

"Determination of the total increase actually necessary to provide dependable production and distribution of the steam can be deferred until sometime in 1971," the report aid.

Stearns-Roger Corp., a Denver, Colo., consulting firm, was hired by the city to conduct a survey of the present production and distribution system and to produce recommendations for future needs.

The conclusions of the Stearns-Roger report:

—The city is obligated to continue supplying steam to its present customers and must remain in the steam heat business — therefore, prime and immediate considerations should be given to acquiring the K St. station for use as a steam production plant prior to the expiration of the contract with Nebraska Public Power System (NPPS) in 1972.

—If it is determined that the K St. power station is not available to Lincoln, steps should be taken to acquire land for a new steam production plant situated, if possible, between 7th and 8th and directly west of the present K St. station.

—Due to the condition of the underground steam distribution piping system, the city should plan and implement a program calculated to rebuild and replace the present underground piping system within a 25-year period.

—Based on the requirements to procure, operate and maintain a suitable steam production plant and to expand, maintain and rebuild the underground system, a "substantial" increase must be made in the steam heat rate charged to customers.

"This increase should initially be in the order of 25% to permit starting of the rebuild operations and necessary extensions to the underground piping system," the report recommended.

If the K St. plant can be acquired, the report suggested, further study should be made to determine if continuous use of certain equipment at the station for summer power peak needs would be desirable as a benefit along with winter steam production.

The power advisory board recommended that Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf and the City Council appoint a negotiating team to discuss with NPPS the possibility of acquiring the K St. plant and to determine the estimated costs.

Planning Commission Deadlocks On Zoning Change Near Gateway

The City-County Planning Commission Wednesday reached a stalemate over Bankers Life Insurance Co. of Nebraska's request for multiple family dwelling zoning north of Gateway Shopping Center.

The commission recorded a 3-3 vote on recommending approval of B-two family dwelling—a zoning classification requiring lesser density—for the 20-acre tract. A motion to deny D multiple zoning did not receive a second and the matter was deferred.

Bankers Life attorney Julian Hopkins told the commission that D multiple zoning is needed to develop a "garden court" apartment complex on the site.

Only 240 Units

However, he noted that although D multiple zoning would allow construction of about 400 units on the 12 acres to be developed, the insurance firm desires to construct only 240 dwelling units.

"We do not need the full density, but we need 240 units to make it economically feasible," Hopkins said.

Planning director Douglas Brogden recommended against the proposal, arguing that the surrounding area has not generated enough employment to support another high-density apartment development similar to the Trenridge complex across Cotner Blvd. to the west.

Knew Zoning

Brogden commented that B two family zoning would be appropriate, but "Bankers Life went out and bought that land knowing it was zoned A-2 (single family residences), and I don't think we should bail them out."

In other action, the commission recommended approval of a proposal from the Lincoln section of the American Institute of Architects that a team of architects be authorized to work on plans for the renovation of older shopping districts in the city.

Under the plan, the team would be paid expenses up to $2,500.

Other planning commission recommendations:

—Change of zone from B two family to I commercial on the southwest corner of 47th and Huntington, requested by Clarence Hendricks, deferred.

—Change of zone from AA rural and public use to H-2 highway commercial on the east side of U.S. 77, north of Salt Creek, requested by William Ashley, denied.

—Change of zone from B two family dwelling to I commercial on the north side of Ballard, between 61st and 62nd, requested by Roger Anderson, deferred.

—Change of zone from C four family to I commercial on the southwest corner of 64th and Platte, requested by Roger Anderson and the Havelock Plaza Corp., approved.

—Change of zone from B two family to D multiple dwelling on the northwest corner of 52nd and Walker, requested by M. D. Hughes, deferred.

—Change of zone from G local business to G-1 planned commercial fronting on the east side of 48th, north of Van Dorn, requested by the City Council, denied.

—Request by Karl Witt for a revised number of units in a community unit plan, 14th and Milton, approved.

—Request by Strauss Bros. for a revised community unit plan in Wellington Greens, 70th and South, approved.

—Proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance permitting two signs for uses allowed by special permit, deferred.

—Proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance permitting the sale of new and used cars in I and II commercial zoning districts, denied.

—Vacating a portion of Southwest 17th in Westland Heights, approved.

—Vacating a portion of Norman Road in The Knolls, application withdrawn.

—Reveiw of the 1968 Lancaster County road program as to its conformance with the Comprehensive Plan, approved.

—Preliminary plats, Creighton Heights, 70th and Van Dorn and Wellington Greens, 70th and South, approved.

—Final plats, Colonial Hills, 59th and Pioneers, approved, and Trendwood 4th addition, 84th and South, deferred.

Canadian Thinks Pope Could Stop War As Hostage

Ottawa (AP) — A 30-year-old mother and child psychologist, Mrs. Harbahajan Singh, said Wednesday she has sent a cablegram to Pope Paul VI begging him to become a hostage in Hanoi to stop "barbarous American bombardment."

Mrs. Singh is a Roman Catholic and one of a group of 10 to 20 people who regularly protest the war in Vietnam by standing silently near the National War Memorial here.

She said she sent the message in hopes that "sympathetic people, and especially Roman Catholics," would follow her example.

The message read: "Humbly beg Your Holiness become hostage Hanoi so that barbarous American bombardment stop. Due your holy presence this could lead negotiation and American withdrawal and put end Vietnamese agany."

Mrs. Singh said she does not think the Americans "would dare to risk hurting His Holiness" by bombing North Vietnam if he were there.

Wallace To Be On Democratic Primary Ballot

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Secretary of State Frank Marsh Wednesday announced his intention to enter former Alabama Gov. George Wallace in Nebraska's presidential primary contest as a Democratic candidate.

Marsh listed five Republican candidates, adding former Minnesota Gov. Harold Stassen to his previously-announced choices.

Other Republicans are former Vice President Richard Nixon, California Gov. Ronald Reagan, New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Michigan Gov. George Romney.

Other Democrats listed by Marsh are President Johnson and Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota.

30-Day Limit

The eight candidates have 30 days in which to file an affidavit removing their names from the May 14 Nebraska ballot. Rockefeller will do so.

Marsh said he decided to list Wallace as a Democratic candidate because a check with Alabama election officials indicates that the former governor is still registered as a Democratic voter.

Wallace announced last week that he will seek the presidency as a third party candidate.

But, Marsh noted, "as of this date, there are only two recognized parties in Nebraska" and he could not legally attach Wallace's name to the ballot as a third party contender.

Other presidential prospects may still be entered on the primary ballot through the petition method.

Petitions require at least 100 signatures in each of the three congressional districts, with notice of written consent by the candidate, by March 15.

Nebraska's new all-star presidential primary law — enacted by the Legislature in 1965 — gives Marsh the "sole discretion" to choose presidential prospects "generally advocated or recognized as candidates in national news media."

Marsh said he decided to announce his choices 30 days before the filing deadline to give all candidates ample time to decide whether they wish to withdraw their names.

Barometric Reaction

"This primary held in the agricultural heartland of the U.S. should produce a barometric political reaction to the candidacy of nationally-mentioned, espoused and declared presidential aspirants," the secretary of state noted.

Nebraska voters may also write in other choices when they go to the polls in May.

Marsh said he received letters from Sen. Robert Kennedy of New York and Gen. William Westmoreland asking him not to enter their names in the free-for-all.

Stassen — the winner of Nebraska's last all-star Republican presidential primary race in 1948 — told Marsh by telephone that he wanted to be entered in the primary contest.

Percy Removed

Sen. Charles Percy was removed from active consideration this week, Marsh said, after his announcement that he is no longer even seeking support as a favorite son candidate from Illinois.

The Nebraska primary will be the nation's second all-star test this year and one of only three such presidential free-for-all's. The first will be held in Wisconsin April 2, the last in Oregon on May 28.

Nixon, Romney and McCarthy will campaign actively in the state. Reagan has announced that he will not campaign for the primary nod since he is merely in the running as a favorite son from California.

Voters will also elect 28 Democratic national convention delegates, and 16 Republican delegates.

Fine Arts Festival Slated

Preparations are underway for the University of Nebraska's annual High School Fine Arts Festival, March 29-30.

The three areas of the festival are sponsored by the departments of art and speech, and the School of Music.

All high school students from the ninth grade up are eligible to participate in the art festival.

The program will include art films; demonstrations in drawing, design, sculpture, oil painting, water color, graphics, and pottery by the university art faculty; and an exhibition of works by high school students.

Entry in the speech festival is limited to sophomores, juniors, and seniors. The speech festival will include competition in one-act plays, oral interpretation of prose literature, and interpretative public address.

Only juniors and seniors are eligible to participate in the music festival which will include a music career counseling program, individual solo auditions, and a critique of original compositions.

Widower Criticized For Socializing

By ROBERT PETERSON

Q. — "My beloved wife passed on three months ago. Finding myself in a state of shock I went to Florida for six weeks. Since returning, I've accepted invitations to dinners and parties and have been introduced to several single women. I meant no harm, but my wife's sister came by yesterday and lectured me for not giving Lucy the courtesy of a full year of mourning. What do you think?"

A. — I think you should do whatever you want to do. If you feel a need and desire to socialize, go ahead. The ancient dictum of waiting a year is old-fashioned and psychologically unsound. What is in one's heart for the departed means far more than the conventional rituals of mourning.

☆ ☆ ☆

Q. — "You asked recently for unusual occupations of retirees, so let me tell you about mine. I play poker — for money. Oh, I know it's against the law but I'm 78 and I guess it won't hurt me to break one little old law. Some cronies and I play every afternoon in our basement for two cents a chip and nobody gets hurt. I've tried everything in my day and nothing is as satisfying as good old stud poker."

A. — I'd chide you, except that my late uncle had a penchant for poker, too. He once told me, "Nothing including a luxury trip to Europe could give me the pleasures derived from a good poker game with half a dozen old pals."

Q. — "I was never so embarrassed as when my frail, 80-year-old mother flew across the country for her first visit with our family. When she hobbled in the door our four-year-old daughter screamed, 'It's a ghost,' and ran to her room. What can you do to prevent children from saying such things?"

A. — A pale, frail older person does have a ghostly appearance to children unaccustomed to seeing elders. You were probably more embarrassed than your mother who doubtless understands that children say whatever pops into their heads. I suspect your mother found some humor in the incident and has since become a loving and friendly "ghost" to her granddaughter.

If you would like the booklet, "Retiring to Florida," write to Robert Peterson, "Life Begins at Forty," care of The Lincoln Star, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents to cover handling costs.

Tiemann Supports Boys' School Study

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann Wednesday commended the Department of Public Institutions Advisory Committee's report on the Kearney Boys Training School and backed full implementation of its recommendations.

Tiemann said some recommendations have already been put into effect and others are in preliminary stages.

On a subject outside the report, the governor said the requested 1969-71 biennium budget "will reflect increased costs" in meeting the needs of the Department of Institutions and the Kearney school.

'Made Mistake'

"Experience now indicates the department made a mistake in not asking for enough money (in this biennium's budget)," he said.

The advisory committee's report on its investigation of the school was reviewed by the governor at a news conference following a closed door meeting with its members.

Tiemann said the committee "got to the heart of the problem and set good guidelines" in its report.

Backed Philosophy

The committee generally backed the department's philosophy for the institution, but called for written goals and procedures and upgrading of personnel, programs and facilities.

Tiemann said the "industrial arts concept" will be stabilized and expanded at the school, and the assistance of the state's educational institutions utilized in improving educational programs.

"Written goals and procedures will be established soon," he said, "and enrollees will be given a manual of procedures and required to learn its contents."

Reported incidents of "brutality" have involved older boys against handicapped youths, and emergency procedures are being established for transfer of mentally-retarded boys to other institutions.

'No Smoking' Policy

Already established are a "no smoking" policy, daily logs of boys being disciplined in solitary confinement and prohibition of corporal punishment.

Supt. John McCarty said food preparation standards can be improved, and a dietary supervisor is being sought, but they "are scarce."

Tiemann said bed capacity at the school is 191, but this "optimum level" will be reduced with remodeling of living quarters to smaller groups. Present school population is 182.

Handicapped

Tiemann said the school had been handicapped for recreationsl facilities since the January fire destroyed the gymnasium.

McCarty said the Kearney High School gymnasium is being used three nights a week, and arrangements are being made to use a roller rink and the Kearney State College pool.

Tiemann said the school is doing the best it can until a replacement recreational center can be requested in the 1969 budget.

Des Moines Man Requests Hearing On Drug Charge

A Des Moines, Iowa, man has requested a preliminary hearing in Lancaster County Court on a possession of marijuana charge.

Lancaster County Judge Ralph Slocum set March 5 for hearing for Douglas Chris Harter, who is specifically charged with possessing cannabis (marijuana) on Feb. 9.

According to police, a plastic bag containing marijuana was found among the belongings of the defendant when he was booked on another charge at Lincoln Police Headquarters.

VALENTINE'S DAY DIVORCE

Actress Corinne Calvet arrives at a Los Angeles Superior courtroom to obtain a St. Valentine's Day default divorce decree from her third husband, film producer Albert C. Gannaway. She is accompanied by Krishna, who said he uses only one name and is a producer, too. Miss Calvet told the court Gannaway once gave her money for two weeks and stayed away for two months.

Nebraska Given Clear Title To 2 Former Army Airfields

The state has been given clear title by the federal government to the land at former Army airfields at Bruning and Fairmont, State Sen. Eric Rasmussen announced Wednesday.

Rasmussen initiated the state's request for title in a legislative resolution which he authored during the 1967 Legislature.

Titile for the Bruning field was cleared a month ago, and the title for Fairmont was handed to the state this week, Rasmussen said.

Next in line, the Fairmont senator said, will be title for the old Army airfield at Harvard.

Quitclaim deeds conveyed lands at the three former airfields to the state July 24, 1950, with the provision that the lands were subject to recall by the federal government in the event of a national emergency.

Rasmussen contended that the lands are now obsolete for emergency use by the government due to the advances in military technology.

The property has also been permitted to deteriorate in the 18 intervening years, he noted.

Rasmussen's resolution asked Nebraska's congressional delegation to take action to clear the titles.

In the case of both Bruning and Fairmont, the government has now fully released titles to the Department of Aeronautics, the senator said.

2 Soviet Services Closed In Kenya

Nairobi, Kenya (AP) — Kenya ordered the Soviet Union's Novosti press agency and a Russian film service, Sovexportfilm, closed Wednesday night and told their representatives to leave the country.

Vice President Daniel Arap Moi, who also serves as Kenya's home affairs minister, accused the agencies' two representatives of working for Soviet intelligence services and trying to subvert the government.

'Administrative Confusion' Seen At Boys School

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The State Institutions Advisory Committee reported "administrative confusion does exist" at the Boys State Training School at Kearney, but its findings minimized reports of homosexuality and abusive disciplinary measures at the institution.

The committee's findings and recommendations, based on two days of public hearings in January and an unpublicized visit later, were released Wednesday by Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann.

The five-member committee, headed by Jack Molsbee of McCook, interviewed some 30 employes, counselors and teachers at the institution, including Supt. John McCarty and two former superintendents, and 16 boys.

"Conflicts in philosophies between the previous (two) superintendents and the Department of Public Institutions made for inconsistent program direction, breakdown in communication, poor staff morale, and conflicting loyalties of individual staff members," the committee said.

It noted the "non-existence" of written personnel practices, job descriptions, disciplinary procedures and general operating rules.

Other findings:

—disciplinary practices have apparently not been abusive, but discipline has not related to individual needs of the boys and discipline controls have been inconsistent.

—homosexual acts do occur, but are limited to few individuals and few known incidents.

—resignations have not primarily resulted from conflicts between the superintendents and the department.

—the success or failure of "rehabilitation" at the school is unmeasurable without standard criteria or available research on cases.

However, the report noted the average stay was 7.3 months per boy in 1967, and other limitations on rehabilitation success included the institution's study and treatment programs, training and experience of personnel, and the physical facilities.

Job assignments and salaries are "uneven" and lack of specialized personnel is "a deterrent to a well-balanced treatment program."

The committee said "dedicated staff members and employes have made "noteworthy contributions" at the school, but there is need for more and better qualified staff in specific fields and institutional work.

"Food served the committee during the visits was unappetizing," the report said. "However, no staff member or boy complained about the quality or variety of food."

"Sanitation in food preparation and utensils, including table flatware, is below desired standards."

The committee said the boys "are limited in the amount of food" with the earlier shifts not permitted second helpings as are the later ones.

The committee noted its general support for the department's general philosophy and goals for the training schools, but recommended these goals "be made in writing" for the guidance of the school's administration.

It said the superintendent should be responsible for written specifications for program operation, staff organization, policy, and a "complete procedural manual."

Other major recommendations:

—written rules and procedures for the boys be posted in each cottage to further uniform standards of individualized care and treatment.

—establishment of an advisory board of education to assist the department in raising academic standards, recruiting teachers and designing programs to meet the needs of the youths.

—support for "firm discipline as a training tool on an individualized basis," but written procedures and records for such discipline.

—isolation or solitary confinement may be used but written procedures established. Daily visits with a written log should be made. Corporal punishment should be prohibited.

—support for the no smoking policy at the school and for organized and supervised recreation.

—support for "team approach" for programming each boy, using a cottage parent, teacher and counselor as team members.

—more latitude for the administration in obtaining legal transfer of boys suspected of mental retardation or illness.

—written procedures and policies relating to the spiritual training program.

—support for in-service training at the institution, with a qualified person in charge.

The committee said the outlined recommendations cannot be accomplished when the institution population "exceeds optimum capacity" of existing facilities, and urged priority planning in this area.

Farmers Oppose Declaring Marijuana A 'Noxious Weed'

By MILLAN WALL
Star Staff Writer

Sgt. Wayne Rowe, a member of theNebraska State Patrol's drug control division, met with disagreement from local farmers Wednesday when he suggested that the growth of marijuana in the state be controlled by declaring it a noxious weed.

State law requires property owners to destroy noxious weeds growing on their land.

The attending farmers generally agreed on the need to keep people from picking and using the weed as a narcotic, but they did not think the state's farmers should be forced to take full responsibility for controlling it.

The discussion grew out of a presentation on "wild hemp control" at a Lancaster County Farm and Home meeting.

Dr. Laren Robison, University of Nebraska weed specialist, said declaring marijuana (wild hemp) a noxious weed would "throw the whole thing back on the farmer who could spend millions of dollars" and still not eradicate the weed.

Although Robison agreed that some method of organized control should be studied, he said control of hemp weed is an almost impossible task when it has been growing in one place for a long period of time.

Tabbing statements that marijuana is not dangerous as "erroneous," Rowe told those at the meeting that "people do get high on Nebraska marijuana" although it may not be as strong as imported varieties.

In reference to a recent letter signed by a group of NU professors who called for change in the state law making marijuana illegal, Rowe promised to "sit down and refute this letter."

Their whole argument is crazy," he said.

He said he believed that national publicity about the wild growth of hemp weed in the state may bring persons into Nebraska to pick it.

"Last year people came into Iowa from Washington, D.C., with maps showing them exactly where to find the marijuana fields," he said.

At a business meeting Wednesday morning, three new members were elected to the Lancaster County Extension Board — Dwayne Wittstruck of Martell, Mrs. Jerald Loeske of Waverly, and Don Crawford of Roca.

All will serve three-year terms.

Wallace Axberg of Lincoln was reelected chairman of the Cornhusker Dairy Herd Improvement Association at their annual meeting, held in conjunction with the Farm and Home Day.

Child Released From Hospital; Mauled By Dog

Chadron (AP) — Jeffrey Sukup, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sukup of the Beef Research Center at Fort Robinson, was released from a Chadron hospital Wednesday after treatment for injuries suffered when mauled by a dog.

The attending physician reported the boy was in good condition after receiving some 80 stitches, mainly in the face and head.

Wallace Picks Running Mate Temporarily

Atlanta (UPI) — George Wallace, in need of a running mate to qualify for the presidential ballot in many states, Wednesday selected Georgia's segregationist former Gov. Marvin Griffin, who promised to "stay there until we tree the coon."

Both Wallace and Griffin, however, emphasized the alliance would probably be only temporary. Wallace was expected to replace Griffin later with a vice presidential candidate from outside the South.

The selection of Griffin, astounded Georgia politicians and chagrined those who supported Wallace.

"That just lost him 50,000 votes in Georgia," said one.

Gov. Lester Maddox, who generally acknowledges his support for Wallace, said, "I think the ticket would be considerably more valuable if they placed someone else out of this area."

Griffin said several states, including Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Nebraska and Virginia have early deadlines for the naming of a vice presidential candidate in order for Wallace's American Independent Party to meet the election requirements.

Mitchell Blasts Marsh For Giving Wallace Nod

Omaha (UPI) —Nebraska Democratic Chairman John Mitchell Wednesday labeled the placing of George Wallace's name on the Democratic Nebraska primary ballot as a "gross error," predicting incidentally that Wallace would "run second" no matter which political voting bloc he might try to appeal to in Nebraska.

"Nebraskans are not interested in his type of extremism," Mitchell said.

He said he referred particularly to the civil rights area where he said Wallace "has indicated an extreme position to the right coupled with a militant point of view, an uncompromising position."

Mitchell said he deemed Secretary of State Frank Marsh's action of placing Wallace on the Democratic ticket in Nebraska as being a "gross error on Mr. Marsh's part."

"If George Wallace were running as a Democrat, we would have no objection. But he has formally and officially announced that he is starting a third party, and that he will be running as a candidate of that third party.

"To now place him on the Democratic ticket in Nebraska obviously violates the intent of the law and also actually violates the announced intention of candidate Wallace," Mitchell, an attorney said.

Seedsmen Elect Phelps President

Omaha (AP)—Robert Phelps of Lincoln, has been named president of the Nebraska Seedsmen Association succeeding Earl Wilson of Norfolk.

At the annual meeting in Omaha, Keith Heuermann of Phillips also was named vice president and Wendell Lauber of Geneva was named secretary-treasurer.

NO MONEY DOWN—UP TO 7 YEARS TO PAY WITH WARDS SPECIAL HOME-IMPROVEMENT CREDIT SERVICE!

For many years, the 300,000 people of Mallorca lived on their Mediterranean island peacefully.

They fished. They raised a few olives. They spoke to each other in Catalan which sounds like gravel dumping out of a tail gate truck—it has no relation to Spanish.

They kept a thousand windmills spinning to water the red, sunburnt land. They did a lot of smuggling and got loaded in little bars in the narrow medieval alleyways of Palma.

All this time they did not know they were living in paradise.

☆ ☆ ☆

Mallorca was "discovered" about 15 years ago. Now it is, so popular that planes come in at the rate of 120 a day in the summer season.

The tourists who came 15 years ago say, "If we could only get rid of the tourists."

This is not the attitude of the native Mallorcan. He finds life a lot livelier. The view pleasanter when a thousand Swedish blondes in bikinis are strewn along the beaches.

The narrow alleyways are filled with souvenir shops.

And the smugglers don't have to smuggle over to Spain. The tourists absorb all the black market cigarets from Africa. There's hardly room in the fishing boats for the fish.

☆ ☆ ☆

"In the good old days"—(I quote the resident American who was one of the discoverers)—"you could live here on $1 a day. I mean literally. A pension room with three meals and wine was a single American dollar.

"But now, good heavens, the hotels get $16. I realize that is first class with three meals. Nothing by comparison with what you'd pay in Paris or London. But it does seem a lot here.

"In summer the island gets 6,000 or 7,000 people each day!

"They reserve rooms for a week. Then they decide to stay a few days more.

"But this is the joke. That day 6,000 or 7,000 more people are coming in. The hotels take the old tourist and put his bags in the lobby. He comes back from the beach to find he has no room. Out!"

☆ ☆ ☆

A Mallorcan taxi driver told me: "We are very progressive. Our hotel clerks are haughty. Proud. Like kings.

"They take in the tourists. But when his time is up, out he goes.

"They are brutal. Just like New York," he said proudly. He had a Brooklyn accent. He said he'd picked it up working in the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

☆ ☆ ☆

The main tourists here are not Americans you will be glad to know. There is a feeling among us that we export loud, aloha-skirted tourists who go around spoiling places.

The original despoiling was taken over by the British, rich German industrialists and French shopkeepers.

It is now being done by Scandinavians. Mallorca has become a branch office of Stockholm, Oslo and Copenhagen. A Scandinavian airline runs down here at cheap prices. Making money by shuttling the planes back and forth like city buses.

☆ ☆ ☆

Still it is a fine island. The white sand beaches are free of coral. The water is warm and so blue you could dip a brush in it and paint.

The Mallorcan people still rattle in Catalan. But they have learned a lot of English and Swedish and Danish.

A booming Fomento de Turismo office is fomenting more tourists as fast as it can send out leaflets.

The taxi driver said: "We even have hippies. Also a small crime wave. Tourist criminals. It is just like Brooklyn. Only warmer."

Citizens Group Discusses Use Of Computer In School System

By RANDY EICKHOFF
Star Staff Writer

Members of the Citizens Advisory Committee Wednesday evening cited lengthening the period between student report cards from six to nine weeks as a possible drawback to the use of computers in the Lincoln school system.

Dr. R. L. Fredstrom, assistant superintendent of schools, was questioned by members who declared that the additional time would hinder self improvement, since students would be notified less often of subjects in which they were doing poorly.

Fredstrom defended the extended period of time between report cards, explaining that it would not only allow the students to get adjusted to the change from seeing their grades once every six weeks to receiving a midterm grade once they entered college, but would also give the teachers more time for honest evaluation in posting grades.

Teacher Frustrated

He maintained that conscientious teachers are frustrated when they are called upon to evaluate a student's progress and citizenship after knowing the student for only six weeks.

The added three weeks would give the teachers more time for honest evaluation according to Fredstrom.

"The proposed change would not have that much effect on the student," he said.

Lowering Load

Another major reason for using computers, he claimed, would be lowering the work load on the teachers.

"This would allow the teachers to spend more time instructing," he said.

Under the system, courses would be selected by the students by simply blacking out spaces on a marked sensitive sheet.

The sheet would then be processed through a machine which would produce a card to be sent into a computer which would mark the student's courses and compile the student's record.

There would be no copying or combining on personal records since the machine would do all the work. This would allow for less clerical work on the part of the teachers, Fredstrom explained.

6-year Record

"Also, by using the computers, a six-year record could be kept instead of two three-year records," Fredstrom said. (By using the computer method, a student's junior high and senior high records would be combined instead of preparing a record at each level of education.)

To allow for the change from six to nine weeks on report cards, he said that a note could be sent to the parents from time to time, informing them of their child's progress.

Also reviewed at the meeting was the elementary guidance program recently introduced in the school system.

Mrs. Ann Poole, Belmont elementary counselor, told the committee that parents and teachers alike sometimes find it easier to discuss problems with a counselor rather than the school principal.

More At Ease

She said that the students also feel more at ease discussing their problems with a counselor than they do when the principal is present.

The only drawback that the committee members could see was the additional $35,000 needed to run the program.

The committee did agree, however, that the elementary guidance program was needed by the school system and drafted a letter to board officials informing them of their findings.

Another proposed letter on computerized grade reporting was set aside for further study.

College View Renovation Outlined

Two courses of action were outlined Wednesday to College View businessmen who are seeking to renovate their business district.

Architect Lawrence Enersen, whose firm is conducting a study of the southeast Lincoln business area, said the merchants could affect a "surface treatment"—improving the appearance of streets and store fronts — which would not change the pattern or function of the shopping center.

Or, Enersen suggested, the businessmen could "re-arrange" College View, by acquiring properties, removing old buildings, providing more parking and asking the city to cooperate by easing circulation problems.

Enerson said, he will develop specific planning recommendations when College View decides which way it wants to move.

He asked the College View Businessmen's Association to appoint a committee to inventory property ownerships and to determine whether combinations of properties can be acquired.

Enerson said that an analysis of existing conditions show that College View is "pretty well salted with deteriorating structures" and that "there is not adequate parking conveniently located."

Charles Leider, Enersen's director of planning, noted that developers have proposed to build shopping centers to the north and south of the College View district "and not a great deal has been done to develop College View to its full potential."

Other interests "see the market" in the College View area and will open retail outlets, "since College View has not moved ahead as rapidly as other areas," Leider said.

E. Peterson Is Re-Elected By Southwood

Ervin Peterson was re-elected president of Southwood of Lincoln, Inc., at the annual meeting here Wednesday.

Other officers re-elected were William Ammon, first vice president; Willard Townsend, second vice president; Lloyd Marti, secretary; and Harold Stranathan, treasurer.

Directors re-elected were Robert Peterson, Howard Gotfredson, Wayne Stranathan, T. D. Lovercheck and Sidney Stewart.

The president of the stockholders reported that Southwood First Addition will open this spring with only paving yet to be installed.

The new area of 345 residential lots, between Southwood and The Knolls, will feature underground wiring.

It was also announced that the Southwood Clubhouse, the property of the Southwood Neighborhood Association, will be constructed this spring.

Ceremony On Wednesday Afternoon

The marriage of Miss Linda Hollon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Laws, to Mark D. Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Del M. Fox of Austin, Tex., was solemnized Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 14, in the candlelighted chapel of the First Presbyterian Church. The lines of the service were read at 4 o'clock by Dr. Glover Leitch, and Russell Blackmer, organist, played the wedding music.

Mrs. James Broer of Pierce, who was the matron of honor, and the maid of honor, Miss Mary Mortensen, wore floor-length frocks of red lace over satin fashioned in the Empire mode. They carried nosegays of white carnations trimmed with tiny red velvet hearts.

Serving Mr. Fox as best man was Steve Laws, brother of the bride, and the groomsman was Steve Rudke.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Steve Laws, appeared in a gown of white Chantilly lace smoothed over satin. Designed with elbow-length sleeves, the gown was complemented by an aisle-wide train of lace tiers, and a petal cap of lace and pearls held her circular veil of lace and illusion. Miniature red hearts ornamented her bouquet of white roses and carnations, which was frilled with red tulle.

Fun News In Suburbia

Have you ever stopped to wonder just exactly what Happiness is? According to that well-known sage, Charlie Brown, it is eating a peanut butter sandwich; or finding your skate key; or even playing the drum in your own school band. Perhaps these things would not be included on your "Happiness list;" or maybe you just never realized that you had such a list, in which case you should sit down right now and make one. But one word of warning—once you get started it may take quite a while to finish it (in fact it might take a life-time), so be sure to have plenty of paper and pencils on hand, then start working!

For Mr. and Mrs. Francis Niebuhr happiness comes wrapped in a little pink bundle and goes by the name of Karen Sue. Young Karen, who was welcomed into the Niebuhr family earlier this week when she was just a few days old, has one brother, Kent Alan, who is two.

Two very proud grandmothers — Mrs. Milda Niebuhr of Lincoln, and Mrs. Beatrice Hall of Central City —complete Karen's family circle. Incidentally, we understand that Mrs. Niebuhr's mother and a sister, Mrs. Jerry Carnes, will arrive in Lincoln this weekend, anxious to get acquainted with the new additon to the family.

Kimballcrest was the scene of a birthday party recently honoring Miss Janice Springman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Springman, who observed her seventh anniversary on January 31. The formal celebration, however, did not take place until February 1, at which time the traditional party was enjoyed by Janice and her guests: Sonja and Su Lyn Burns; Lisa Powell; Christine, Lorie and Gary Burns; Debby Shaw; Lisa Tvrz and, of course, her brother and sister, Mark and Carol Springman.

Some former Lincoln residents who have spent the past two years in Old Bridge, N.J., are now back in town and living at a 2800 So. 41st address in Hollingsworth Heights. Of course we're speaking of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Lydick who resided in Lincoln while Mr. Lydick was working on his B.S. degree in engineering at the University of Nebraska. He is now associated with IBM.

Prenuptial Party

To honor a bride-elect of early spring, Mrs. Duane Lindholm and Mrs. Pat Porter will be hostesses Saturday afternoon, Feb. 24, at the home of Mrs. Lindholm.

The honored guest, Miss Susan True, whose marriage to Owen Porter will take place March 16, will be presented a miscellaneous shower by the guests, who will include feminine members of the family and family friends.

There Is News All Around The Town

You may have heard rumors to the effect that the Rev. and Mrs .William Cross are leaving Lincoln—and it is true.

The Rev. and Mrs. Cross and their daughter, Barbara, will be leaving April 1—or perhaps a little before that time—for Granby, Colo. Granby, as all travelers to Colorado already know, is in the resort area — both summer (it's right beside Grandview Lake)—and in winter—for skiing.

The farewell courtesies for the Rev. and Mrs. Cross already have begun, and their calendar is brimming with more.

We told you the other day about the 'Psychedelic Melee' that the Monday Night Club had planned for Saturday evening at the Lincoln Country Club—and this morning we have an incomplete guest list.

Coming from Omaha to attend the party will be Mr. and Mrs. Howard Agee, and the Lincoln guest couples—up to this moment—will be Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bookstrom and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Miles.

* * *

The members of the Stardusters Dance Club, however, are not going in for anything psychedelic—at least this weekend. Their party, planned for Saturday evening at Hotel Lincoln, is a 'Beaus and Errors' affair, the details for which are in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Hanstedt, committee chairmen, who are assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hayes.

The guest list for the Stardusters affair will include Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Judkins, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Domgard, Mr. and Mrs. John Dietrich, Mr. and Mrs. Wymore Markin, Mr. and Mrs. James McBride, Miss Ester Kehling and Robert Hardin.

Delta Gamma groups no doubt will be disappointed at not having a brand new legacy, but they will also be interested in the news from St. Cloud, Minn., this morning.

Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Bjorklun of St. Cloud announce the arrival of a son, James Martin, on Tuesday, Feb. 13. Mrs. Bjorklun is the former Mary Margaret Holtmeier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Holtmeier of Lincoln—and Delta Gamma at Nebraska. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bjorklun of Minden.

MARY MADELINE HOLM

Of particular interest to town and campus this morning is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Norman D. Holm of the engagement of their daughter, Mary Madeline, to Edward Lawrence Rezabek, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Rezabek.

The wedding will take place during the Christmas season.

Miss Holm is a junior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority.

Mr. Rezabek is a former student at the University of Nebraska and now is attending John F. Kennedy College in Wahoo.

BARBARA KAY THOMAS

This morning Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Thomas of Chula, Mo., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Barbara Kay, to Dal Leland Deumey of Chillicothe, Mo., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Deumey of Lincoln.

A May wedding is planned.

Mr. Deumey attended the University of Nebraska and was graduated in 1966 from the Nebraska Technical School in Milford. He now is associated with the Reynolds Machine-Tool and Engineering Co., in Chillicothe.

Bridal Showers

An April bride-to-be who has been honored at two prenuptial parties is Miss Marcia Lynn Bartzatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Bartzatt, who as announced that her marriage to Michael S. Little will be solemnized April 27.

Sunday afternoon, Miss Bartzatt was presented a miscellaneous shower at a party for which her aunt, Mrs. Keith Peterson of Moline, Ill., was hostess at the home of the honoree.

The bride-elect was honored at a surprise party last Friday evening, Feb. 9, when Mrs. Wayne Creps was hostess at a bridal courtesy. Fourteen guests were invited to the informal evening at the home of Miss Bartzatt's sister, Mrs. Richard Dillon.

Opening the series of bridal courtesies for Miss Julee Clark next Wednesday evening, Feb. 21, will be Mrs. William Turner who will be hostess to a group of guests at her home.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Clark, Miss Clark will set a definite date for her spring wedding when her fiance, Ens. Charles Edward Lowe, USN, receives definite orders from the Navy. The son of Mrs. Clarence G. Lowe, he currently is stationed at the Navy Supply Corps School in Athens, Ga.

This morning we give the directions for the Diana Floral Beads. We know you have been waiting for the instructions, and we're sorry not to have given them to you before this. Here they are:

Place seven heaping teaspoonfuls of the crumbs in the mixing bowl. Add a teaspoonful of sachet powder and mix gently; cover and set aside for fifteen minutes. In a separate bowl place six teaspoonfuls of the fixative, to which add a bit of coloring, using your own judgment as to the strength of color. Paste colors are strong and are tricky to use. They must be carefully and thoroughly mixed to avoid streaking.

Gradually add the colored fixative to the scented crumbs, mixing carefully so that all the ingredients are blended. The paste must not be too stiff, but just so it can be easily handled. If, when rolling the paste into beads you find it too dry, moisten the palm of your left hand and the fingers of your right hand with a very little water. Always keep a saucer of water handy for this purpose.

As each piece of paste is rolled into a perfectly round globe, pierce it carefully with one of the large bank pins and then stick the pin into a drying tray. (I use empty cardboard boxes and covers for this purpose.)

The recipe for this amount of paste will make a little more than fifty beads. When trays are filled, put them away in a dry place where they will not be disturbed. It takes from five to seven days for beads to dry perfectly. During that time there is a gradual shrinkage. The finished beads are about the size of a fair sized green pea, smooth, solid and charmingly fragrant. When beads are dry, take them off the pins and pack into air tight boxes.

To string the American Beauty necklace, use one thread, *one American beauty colored bead, one small gold bead, and repeat until necklace is as long as you desire it to be.

Two threads are used for stringing the violet necklace. On two threads string one violet, one crystal on each thread, one gold on two threads, one crystal on each thread, one sapphire (large) on two threads, one crystal on each thread, one gold on two threads, one crystal on each thread, one violet, and repeat from.

Beads must be carefully and uniformly formed to be a thing of beauty.

ABBY: trust him

DEAR ABBY: My husband is not what you'd call "handsome." He's middle-aged, a little on the flabby side, and he's losing his hair. But he's a bus driver, and Abby, I don't think you know how crazy some women are for bus-drivers. It must be the uniform, because the women fall all over George like he was a marine captain or something.

George says that most of the women on his run are mental cases. They have tried to tip him, give him their phone numbers, and they fight for the seat right behind the driver so they can blow on his neck. One lady even PINCHED him.

Should I ask George to get into some other line of work? Or should I let him stay on that bus with all those crazy women?

GEORGE'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Men who meet the public (in uniform and out) will be tipped, tempted, and even pinched occasionally. Give him lots of love. And trust him. If a man is happy at home, he won't know Sophia Loren from Phyllis Diller.

CONFIDENTIAL TO GITTA: If this one is a girl, tell your husband that your family is complete now, and you are calling this one "Alice." (Das ist Alles.)

CONFIDENTIAL TO SUZIE Q.: True, you only live once, but try to live right. There is no accident insurance to protect the girl who pursues the wrong policy.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Federal Riot Force Pondered

Washington (AP)—The President's Commission on Civil Disorders is considering recommending creation of a specially trained federal force to deal with urban riots.

Sources close to the commission said the proposal reflects dissatisfaction with the performance of National Guard units in trying to quell riots last summer.

Further evidence of this dissatisfaction was expressed in a speech Tuesday night by Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York City, vice chairman of the commission.

Won No Medals

Lindsay said in Buffalo:

"In its studies, the commission found that the National Guard won no medals in those cities where it was called into burning ghettoes.

"The guardsmen were undertrained and perhaps overequipped. By and large they were unsympathetic to the Negroes of the cities. The record is filled with charges that the guardsmen were unreliable, trigger-happy and ineffective in dealing with mobs in the streets."

One officer said he doubts the guard "would object very strenuously" to formation of a special riot control force because it "is a very unpleasant job and nobody likes it."

But he added the guard likely would protest any move to eliminate guardsmen from civil disturbance duty. "If our state mission is downgraded, we're in trouble," he said.

Sources told the Associated Press that in discussing creation of a federal force to supplant or supplement the National Guard for riot duty, several questions have been raised within the commission, including:

Would it amount to a national quasi-military police force?

Would it be a regular Army unit or would it have a uniform of its own?

At what point would such a force step in to quell a disorder?

The guard's effectiveness in riot control is limited, a commission source said, not only by lack of proper training, but by "the fact most of the guard is lily-white."

Also because of the role the guard played in disorders in the Deep South in the mid 1950s and early 1960s, it is often regarded by Negroes as a symbol of repression.

There is feeling on the commission that an even deeper, more difficult problem than the guard's role is the relationship between poor Negroes and local police.

Freeman Lists Agriculture Needs

Washington (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman listed for congressmen Wednesday a series of broad legislative proposals for agriculture and rural America.

His testimony before the Senate-House Economic Committee could be a preview of the farm message President Johnson is expected to send to Capitol Hill soon.

Freeman said these legislative actions are sorely needed:

1. Extension of the Food for Peace Program authorizing food assistance for underdeveloped countries which agree to help improve their own agricultures. The present act expires Dec. 31.

2. Extension and possible broadening of the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965. Under this program, government payments are used to encourage growers to increase or lower their production of cotton, livestock feed grains and wheat, to meet anticipated demands. This act expires at the end of the 1969 crop year, but Freeman expressed hope Congress would act this year.

3. Enactment of a reserve program under which stocks of grains, soybeans and possibly other farm products would be held in storage for future emergency needs, including short crops. Legislation of this nature is being considered by the Senate Agriculture Committee.

4. Broadened support for a food stamp program to help poor people buy more food.

Price Bargaining

5. Legislation which would let farmers band together to bargain for better prices for their products.

6. Authorization of a coordinated national program designed to bring about, as Freeman put it, "rural renaissance." Such a program would authorize federal help, including loans and grants, to develop plans for rural economic and social development.

It also would provide greater assistance in developing health, education, housing, recreation and other facilities in rural communities to encourage industry to build plants and provide jobs in rural areas.

Freeman said this would help halt migration of the rural poor to city slums and possibly influence some reverse migration from overcrowded city areas to smaller communities.

Body Count Sometimes Estimated

By The Associated Press

How does the U.S. command in Saigon arrive at those figures on enemy dead in Vietnam? By body count, say American spokesmen there. But the Pentagon concedes that sometimes they are just estimates.

"When they can count, they count," said one high Pentagon official. "Otherwise they estimate."

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara has suggested that the figures of Communist casualties be "used with a great deal of caution." He added that they were just as apt to be understatement as exaggeration.

Military informants said the U.S. casualty reports were begun in 1962 after McNamara called for measurable indicators of progress in the war.

At first the figures came only from the South Vietnamese; the Americans considered them unreliable. Directions then went out to U.S. commanders to rely on U.S. sources and base the figures on body counts taken on the battlefield.

Region Renamed

Tokyo (AP)—An eastern Chinese region bordering on North Vietnam has been renamed Ching Kang, after the Chingkang Mountains where Chairman Mao Tse-tung staged Communist uprisings in the 1920s. The region formerly was known as the Kiang administrative district, the New China News Agency said.

Nuclear Defense Said Unlikely For Khe Sanh

New York Times Service

Washington—Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, expressed confidence Wednesday that the Marine outpost at Khe Sanh could be defended against attack without the use of nuclear weapons.

He declined, however, to categorically rule out the use of nuclear weapons in the event the Marine position in northwest South Vietnam was in danger of being overrun by North Vietnamese forces.

The question of possible use of nuclear weapons in the Vietnam war was raised by reporters after Wheeler, along with Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, testified before a closed session of the House defense appropriations subcommittee.

Noting that there were rumors that consideration was being given to the use of nuclear weapons in Vietnam, a reporter asked the general whether he wished to make any comment on the reports.

While the question was phrased broadly to apply to all of Vietnam, Wheeler narrowed it to apply to Khe Sanh and said:

"I do not think that nuclear weapons will be required to defend Khe Sanh."

When a reporter asked whether the use of nuclear weapons was being excluded in event the Marine outpost was in danger of being overrun, the general replied: "I refuse to speculate any further." He than repeated his earlier statement that he did not think nuclear weapons would be required.

It seemed likely that Wheeler's answer would only contribute to the widespread speculation on Capitol Hill, particularly among administration critics, that consideration is being given to the use of nuclear weapons in the Vietnam war.

Front Head Rests Required On Cars Made Next Year

Washington (AP)—The government announced Wednesday that head rests will be required on the front seat of all cars manufactured after Dec. 31 to protect people against whiplash neck injuries in rear-end collisions.

The National Safety Bureau says about one out of four car accidents is a rear-end crash and a substantial number produce whiplash injuries.

The new standard will require that the seats of the driver and the right front passenger be equipped with head rests, either as a part of the seat, a cushion added on or any other device which meets the standard.

The German import car Volkswagen already has a head cushion which is part of the seat in its new models.

After publication of the proposed standard last Dec. 28, auto manufacturers said they would be able to meet it.

New York Democrats Back LBJ

© New York Times Service

Buffalo — The New York State Democratic Committee overwhelmingly voted Wednesday an across-the-board endorsement of President Johnson for re-election.

The action constituted a major gesture of support for the national administration even though the resolution, as finally adopted, omitted direct reference to the President's conduct of the war in Vietnam and the progress he has made at home in his great society objectives.

New York state casts 190 of the 2,622 votes at the Democratic National Convention, or 14.4% of the total a presidential candidate needs for nomination. The state's 43 electoral votes are the highest in the nation.

Supporters of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, who backs the President but has repeatedly challenged his course in Vietnam, were pleased that specific reference to the Southeast Asian conflict was omitted.

Backers of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, the President's opponent in national primaries, drew comfort from omission of direct approval of Vietnam policy.

Time To Buy Newark News

Newark, N.J. (AP) — Time Inc. moved Wednesday to extend its publishing empire into the daily newspaper field with an agreement to take over the Newark Evening News.

The acquisition would give Time, the nation's largest weekly newsmagazine publisher, control over the largest daily newspaper in New Jersey.

It also could give time indirect access to the afternoon newspaper field in New York City, now served only by the tabloid Post. The News recently began a New York City edition which is shipped from Newark by helicopter.

No purchase price was given, but stock prices indicated the transaction would top $33.5 million.

NASA May Orbit Three-Man Crew Ahead Of Plans

Cape Kennedy, Fla. (AP)—The space agency may orbit America's first three-man astronaut crew two months sooner than now officially scheduled and squeeze in three manned Apollo flights this year.

This accelerated launch schedule, made possible by recent successes in America's man-to-the-moon drive, is currently under consideration by National Aeronautics and Space Administration planners.

NASA's official schedule currently calls for astronauts to ride the first manned Apollo moonship on an Earth orbital flight in the "last quarter" of this year, meaning no earlier than October.

2 Missionaries Killed

Saigon (AP)—Two French missionary priests were killed during fighting in Hue, authorities reported.

U.S. To Sign One Section Of Latin Nuclear Treaty

Washington (AP)—The United States announced Wednesday it will sign one section of a treaty aimed at barring nuclear weapons from Latin America, but it also will spell out this country's interpretation of any restraints on U.S. nuclear power.

A White House announcement said the United States will sign Protocol II of the treaty signed a year ago at Tlatelolco, Mexico, aimed at making Latin America a nuclear-free zone.

Protocol II provides that those signing this part of the treaty will not supply nuclear arms to Latin American pact members or threaten them with nuclear power.

Not Protocol I

The United States will not sign Protocol I, because it is unwilling to give up the deployment of nuclear weapons on any U.S. territory covered by the treaty. This includes Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

A presidential announcement said the United States will sign Protocol II in Mexico "with an appropriate statement" and that the international agreement then will go to the Senate with a request that it be ratified.

Sources said that the statement will make it clear that the United States reserves the right to land nuclear-armed warplanes, overfly hemisphere countries with such planes, and arrange port calls for nuclear-armed submarines and surface ships—provided the nation or nations directly involved in each case are agreeable.

Mexico Mover

Mexico was a prime mover in initiating the treaty. Communist Cuba was asked to sign it but declined. The only other Latin nations which have not signed are Barbados and Guyana.

The only nuclear power to sign the treaty is Britain.

In addition to prohibiting the acquisition or use of nuclear weapons, the treaty also prohibits acquisition of nuclear explosive devices for peaceful purposes.

However, President Johnson said, "it has been drafted in such a way as to make it possible for Latin American parties to the treaty to obtain peaceful nuclear explosion services," provided they conform to the existing nuclear test ban treaty.

Kennedy Broadens Johnson Criticism

© New York Times Service

Neon, Ky.—Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., broadened his criticism of the Johnson administration Wednesday to include the "unacceptable" failure of federal welfare and antipoverty programs in the Appalachian Mountains and the nation's urban ghettos, as well as the President's policy in Vietnam.

He called it "essential" and "fundamental" that some of the "billions of dollars" being spent by the Johnson administration in Vietnam be spent, instead, to finance a New-Deal-style public works program that would provide federally financed jobs for the unemployed rather than training programs "for jobs that are nonexistent."

"The struggle in Vietnam is taking a great deal of money —$30 billion a year," Sen. Kennedy said. "Some of that should be coming down here to help the people of this area, and to help the unemployed in the ghettos."

Without naming the President once—no one, in fact, among a parade of impoverished subcommittee witnesses and householders who has seen Kennedy in two days uttered Johnson's name — the senator made his criticism plain enough concerning both the war in Vietnam and the state of the nation at home.

Reds Send Warning On Berlin

Berlin (AP)—The Soviet Union sharply told the United States on Wednesday that alleged attempts by West Germany to bring West Berlin under its control could affect the U.S. right of stationing troops in the Communist-surrounded city.

The warnings, in a letter from the Soviet ambassador to East Germany to the U.S. ambassador to West Germany was the latest move in a mounting Soviet campaign against West German political activity in West Berlin.

The official East German news agency ADN reported the text of the letter from Ambassador Pyotr Abrasimov to American envoy George C. McGhee. ADN said the letter was sent to McGhee in Bonn and that corresponding letters also were addressed to the British and French ambassadors to West Germany.

The four ambassadors also have the dual function of being high commissioners for Berlin under a postwar four-power agreement.

Troopers Stop Protest About Negro School

Social Circle, Ga. (UPI) — State troopers dragged 50 kicking, biting demonstrators out of the path of school buses Wednesday to break up a protest against alleged "deplorable conditions" at an all-Negro elementary school here.

Two troopers went to a hospital for treatment of minor injuries and two persons were arrested, one a young white teacher who had been fired after protesting against conditions at the school.

About 50 demonstrators, some of them parents of the students, met the school buses on Fair Play Ave. Wednesday. About 25 state troopers were also on hand. The crowd dropped in front of the buses and the troopers waded into the crowd and began carrying and dragging the demonstrators away.

Marx Seeks Court Order Requiring Bond Acceptance

. Maryland National Insurance Co. and Stuart Marx filed a mandamus action in Lancaster District Court Wednesday seeking an order requiring Municipal Judge Thomas McManus to accept and approve bonds tendered by the plaintiffs.

Maryland National Insurthe defendant judge refuses to accept or approve any bonds tendered by the firm and its local agent, Marx, in criminal cases "upon sole grounds that said bonds are tendered by the plaintiffs."

They allege that McManus has accepted and has indicated that he will continue to accept the bonds of the plaintiffs only when and if the full amount of the bond in cash is deposited with the clerk of the court.

According to the petition, the plaintiffs have complied with this since the defendant commenced refusing any other bonds by the plaintiff which was on or near Jan. 29, 1968.

The plaintiffs contend that this requirement of the judge greatly interferes with their business.

They contend they have a legal right to engage in the bonding business in Nebraska and that the defendant has the legal duty and obligation to accept and approve valid bonds which are in accordance with the laws of the State of Nebraska.

The plaintiffs charge that the actions of the judge are "arbitrary, capricious, discriminatory and illegal," and seek a writ of mandamus, ordering him to accept the bonds, or an alternative writ, requiring him to show cause why a writ of mandamus should not be issued.

Committee To Propose Sites For Libraries

A Lincoln Library Board committee reported Wednesday it should be able to propose sites for new branch libraries next month.

The site selection committee was appointed to look into specific locations for three proposed major branch libraries to be built in the next few years.

The board decided that public hearings will be held after specific locations are recommended.

In other action, Library Director Charles Dalrymple reported that total library circulation last month was up 5,098 over January, 1967.

Fines and fees for December, 1967, totaled $1,434.

Dalrymple told the board that an assistant director has not yet been hired. The position pays $8,000 to $10,000 per year.

Helicopter Crash Kills 4, Topples 2,060-Foot Tower

Fargo, N.D. (UPI) — A Marine helicopter chopped into the 1,000-foot level of a 2,060-foot television tower — the second-tallest structure in the nation — Wednesday, toppling the tower and killing the four men who rode the aircraft.

The helicopter was on a training mission out of the Grand Forks, N.D., Air Force Base north of Fargo. Three bodies were found in or at the wreckage of the burned CH53A helicopter. The fourth was found nearby.

Vienna, Austria (AP)—Czechoslovakia's Communist-led Youth Union is involved in a hot dispute with the government involving a monorail for the 1970 Nordic world ski championships, reports from Prague said.

Lincoln Executive In Fair Condition At Local Hospital

Lincoln business executive Richard O. Joyce, 48, of 1620 Skyline Drive, was listed in fair condition at Lincoln General Hospital Wednesday following his second heart attack in three months, hospital officials reported.

Joyce suffered a relapse from his December attack on Monday and was hospitalized late Monday evening, officials said.

Joyce is vice president of Henkle and Joyce Hardware Co. and an officer of the Pacific Gun Sight Co. and Western Gun and Supply Co.

During World War II, Joyce piloted one of 16 B25's in the famous Doolittle raid on Tokyo on April 18, 1942.

Mink Orders Bring 'Seeds'

Baltimore, Md. (AP) — A federal grand jury has accused Jay Cornell, 21, of Baltimore, of sending a box of "mink seeds — for growing mink coats" to each person who ordered a mink stole from him.

A 17-count indictment charging Cornell with mail fraud was returned by the grand jury.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the etters under the checked figures gives you.

AMERICAN WINS SILVER MEDAL

BIG "O" IS A-1 - - - - - - By Alan Maver

McDermott 2nd In 500 Race; Russians Claim Pairs Title

. . . AMERICA'S WOOD MOVES UP IN FIGURE SKATING

Grenoble, France (AP) — America's surprisingly successful skaters, doing their best to smooth over the deluge of disappointment that struck U.S. Alpine skiers, sparked again Wednesday as Terry McDermott captured one medal and Tim Wood closed in on another in the Winter Olympics.

McDermott of Birmingham, Mich., the 1964 Olympic 500-meter speed skating champion, but given little chance to place this year, overcame a three-year retirement and poor ice to win a silver medal in the event.

Despite his 48th and last starting position, the gritty 27-year-old McDermott sped through pools of water in many sections and tied Magne Thomassen of Norway for second place in 40.5 seconds.

Erhard Keller of West Germany, a 23-year-old dental student who has the pending world mark of 39.2, won the gold medal in 40.3.

"I didn't come back to the Olympics just to skate," said McDermott, a sales representative who was a barber before the 1964 Olympics. "I wanted to win a medal."

Wood, the U.S. men's figure skating champion from Bloomfield Hills, Mich., sent American hopes soaring anew a few hours later by jumping into second place with the completion of the five compulsory figures.

Wood trailed only Wolfgang Schwarz of Austria, who became the heavy favorite following the shocking collapse of his countryman, Emmerich Danzer. Danzer, the world champion who figured for a certain gold medal plummeted from first after Tuesday's first two figures to fourth with virtually no chance of winning a gold or silver medal.

Wood looked a solid bet to pick up the United States seventh medal, all won by the skaters — Peggy Fleming's gold, three silvers and a bronze by the women speed skaters and McDermott's.

"These figures are the best he ever has done in a major international competition," said Wood's father, Dr. Kennedy A. Wood. "We are real excited because we feel Tim can make it to the top."

Schwarz has 1,006.6 points to Wood's 992.4.

However, the U.S. pairs figure skating team of Cynthia and Ronald Kaufman of Seattle, Wash., finished a disappointing sixth as Russians won the gold and silver medals.

Ludmila Beloussova and Oleg Protopopov, Russia's husband and wife team, successfully defended their 1964 gold medal with a virtually flawless performance that had the crowd roaring.

Tatiana Joukchesternava and Alexandre Gorelik won the silver with 17 ordinals and Margot Glockshuber and Wolfgang Danne of West Germany got the bronze with 31 after starting the day 2-3.

The U.S. Alpine team, hit by injuries, waxing errors, disqualifications and falls, has been blanked going into the final events this weekend — the men's special slalom and the women's giant slalom.

Jean-Claude Killy of France, with the downhill and giant slalom gold medals already in his pocket, took aim at an alpine sweep Wednesday as he led qualifiers for the two-heat slalom with a run of 49.89.

Americans Billy Kidd of Stowe, Vt., Jim Heuga of Squaw Valley, Calif., Spider Sabich of Kyburz, Calif., and Rick Chaffee of Rutland, Vt., also qualified.

The U.S. men's 4 x 10-kilometer cross country relay team finished as expected, 12th in the field of 15, in another final Wednesday.

Norway won the event for its second gold medal in Nordic competition. Odd Martinsen, Pa,, Tyldum, Harald Groenningen and Ole Ellefsaeter finished in two hours, eight minutes, 33.5 seconds, some 100 seconds ahead of Sweden with Finland third.

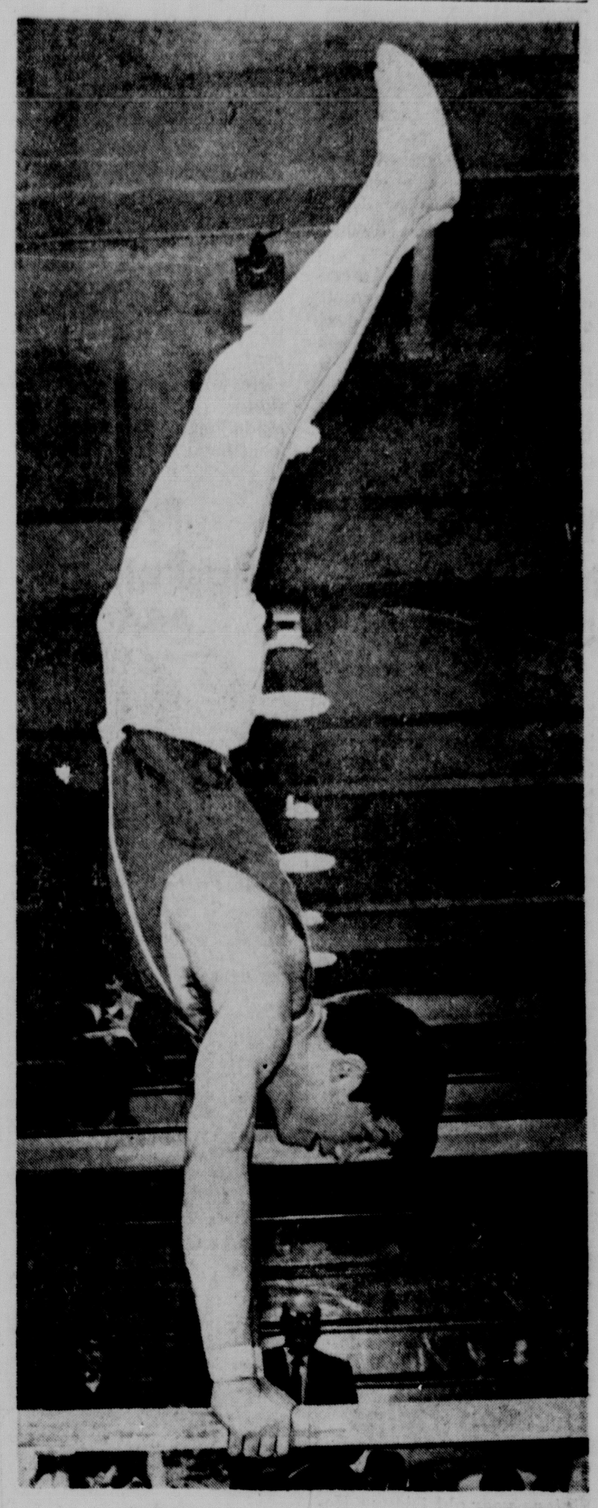

In the meeting room, the International Bobsled Federation rejected a West German request that two gold medals be awarded in the two-man bobsled.

The International Olympic Committee awarded the medal to Eugenio Monti and Luciano De Paolis Sunday despite an identical time with the West German team of Horst Floth and Pepi Bader. Monti's team was given the gold on the strength of making the fastest single run.

The U.S. and eight other countries asked the International Luge Federation to bar the entire East German squad from further competition after three East German girls were disqualified for heating the runners of their luges, illegal under the rules.

However, David G. Rivenes of Miles City. Mont., U.S. team manager, said "we are leaving the door open. We don't want to compete with them, but we plan to continue even if they are not barred."

McDermott retired in 1964 after ending the eight-year-old reign of Russia's Eugeny Grishin, who finished fourth Wednesday.

Lincoln High Hoping To End LSE's Swimming Domination

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

Lincoln Southeast, winner of nine straight city swim championships, will receive a stiff challenge from Lincoln High as the Knight tankers try for No. 10 at East High tonight.

The intra-city water warfare will be headlined by two state title holders and four competitors who placed in last year's state meet.

Southeast's Stan Ewing set two state records last year as he splashed his way to a 1:02 timing in the 100-yard breaststroke and a 2:05.1 clocking in the 200-yard individual medley.

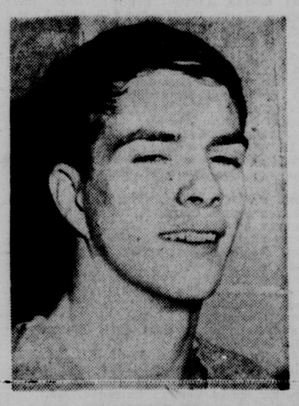

"Ewing is the finest breaststroker the state has ever produced," Southeast mentor Don Copas says proudly. "He could be the first in the nation to ever swim the 100 in under a minute."

The Knights' ace has lowered his state standard to a 1:01.9 this season. The national record is 1:00.6, held by Bryan Job of Kent, Ohio.

The current state mark in the 400-yard free style event is held by Knight teammate Kelly Cook at 4:11.3, but Cook turned the distance in 4:10.2 against East early this season. season.

Though Southeast is undefeated in dual meet competition, the Links showed last week, as they captured the Trans-Nebraska crown, that they are ready to put the Knights' long-standing supremacy to a test.

The Lincoln High-Southeast dual meet went to the final relay event before the Knights finally prevailed. Coach Gene Cotter's crew avenged that with a big win last week in the Trans-Nebraska.

STAN EWING

DAN DERMYER

"I expect the city meet to be every bit as close," Cotter commented. "Though it's unlikely Northeast or East could win the team title, they each have some fine swimmers. How those boys do could affect one of us enough to decide the whole event."

Cotter was especially referring to Northeast's Jim Pickerel who finished second in the 50 and sixth in the 100-yard freestyle events in the state meet last year.

East's Joe Arkfeld also came in for some Cotter praise. "He won the 100-yard freestyle at the Trans-Nebraska, and that shifted some points our way," the Links' boss said. "It's that same kind of thing that will have a bearing on who wins the city championship this time."

The Links have some star performers of their own. Dan Dermyer finished fourth in the backstroke and third in the individual medley at the state meet last year.

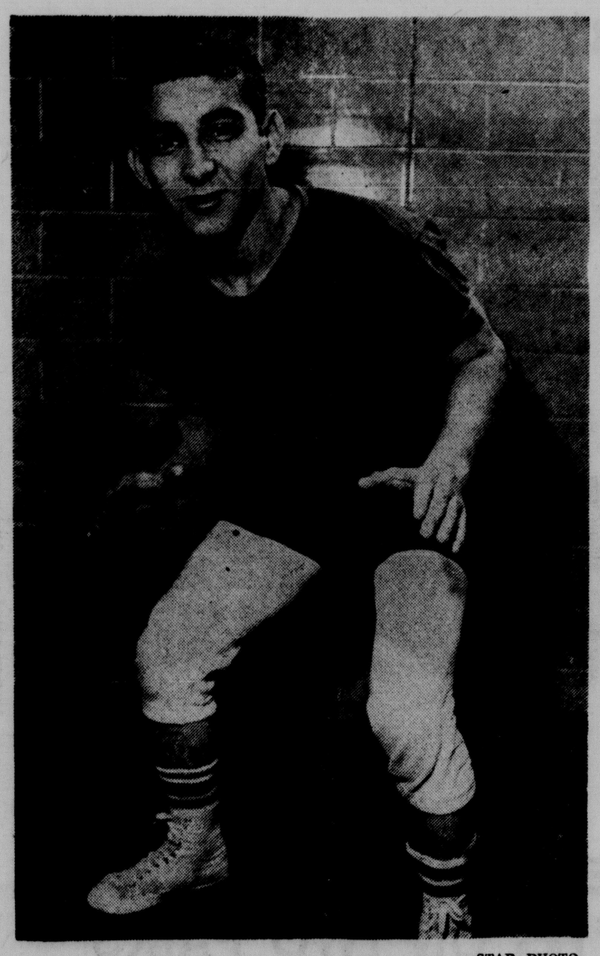

Sophomore Mark Bryan has broken an eight-year-old school record in the 100-yard butterfly and will be the favorite in that event. The Links have depth and balance. They hope to use this to pry the crown away from Southeast.

The Knights hold all but one city record. Three new ones were set in last year's meet, two by Ewing.

For the first time, with the addition of East, the host school this year, the city championships will be a four-school affair.

The meet records:

200-yd. medley relay—1:46.7, Southeast, 1964.
200-yd. freestyle—1:56.4, Scott Wright, Southeast, 1967.
50-yd. freestyle—:23.4, John Moreland, Southeast, 1963.
200-yd. ind. medley — 2:07.9, Stan Ewing, Southeast, 1967.
100-yd. butterfly — :57.2, Tom Tidball, Southeast, 1966.
100-yd. freestyle — :51.8, Steve Coy, Southeast, 1964.
100-yd. backstroke — :58.7, Dave Schmidt, Southeast, 1966.
400-yd. freestyle—4:26.7, Bob Stern, Lincoln High, 1964.
100-yd. breaststroke — 1:03.8, Stan Ewing, Southeast, 1967.
400-yd. freestyle relay—3:34.2, Southeast, 1966.

Deshler Maintains Unbeaten Mark, Nips Tecumseh, 48-46

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

Beatrice — Class C almost lost its only undefeated team here Wednesday night as Deshler and Tecumseh battled for the Southern Border Conference championship.

The Deshler Dragons managed to maintain their unblemished record, now 18-0, by squeezing out a heart-stopping 48-46 victory.

Tecumseh, now with a 15-3 record, played come-from-behind basketball in the early stages.

The Indians owned their biggest bulge with two minutes left, 46-40, but then failed to score the rest of the way.

Deshler came up with eight straight points in the next minute to take the lead and the game. Nobody scored in a wild final 60 seconds. Plenty of shots were taken as each team blew several chances to tie or ice the game.

Charlie Fintel started Deshler's winning surge with two quick buckets and then stole the ball twice and passed to teammates who hit from the foul line. Brad Brettman hit three free throws and substitute Duane Engel connected with exactly one minute remaining for his only point of the night and the final point of the game.

In the last minute, Tecumseh missed two point-blank shots, couldn't get the ball across mid-court in time and were guilty of bringing the ball back over the mid-line another time.

Coach Tom Rine's Deshler quintet edged to a 12-7 first-quarter lead. Both clubs were tense at the outset and played in sub-par fashion.

Tecumseh, winner of the conference's eastern division crown, pulled within two of the Dragons late in the second stanza, which ended with the western titleholders in front, 26-22.

The Indians, who lost the same championship to Deshler last year, came out in a wardance to open the second half. The lead changed hands six times in the third period, with Tecumseh in front 38-36 at the last intermission break.

Deshler	12	14	10	12—48
Tecumseh	7	15	16	8—46

Deshler—Brettmann 5, Engel 1, Buntemeyer 4, Fintel 20, Priefert 8, Kovac 10.
Tecumseh—Doty 11, Phillips 5, Staley 5, Puchalla 4, Agena 7, Gregory 14.

Matmen Get Last Chance To Halt Orta

By JOHN HINES
Star Sports Writer

The winning streak holds a drama all its own in the world of sports when people begin to wonder if it will ever come to an end.

In Nebraska high school athletics, Holdrege has a 34-game basketball string still intact, for instance. But Lincoln High senior wrestler Bobby Orta has gone even further than that.

Bobby will be in action as the solid 103-pound favorite in this year's state prep wrestling tourney which unfolds Friday and Saturday at NU Coliseum.

In the past two years,, he has won 21 straight matches each season for a current 42-bout winning streak. Out of that total, 37 have been by pins. He was state 95-pound champ a year ago after finishing 20-2 as a sophomore, when he was state runnerup at 95. That's 62-2 for a career.

Both his losses two years ago came to John Barrera of Omaha South, once in a dual and then in the state finals. His closest call in the current string came this year in the finals of the Millard Invitational when he decisioned Jim Johnson of Omaha Westside, 5-4, in the 112-pound finals. Two years ago, Bobby defeated Johnson handily in a dual but the latter has improved tremendously since.

Bobby got a comparatively late start in his wrestling career, beginning in the ninth grade at Whittier Junior High under the encouragement and help of his gym coach there, Mike Nissen, ex-NCAA champion wrestler for Nebraska. Nissen then got Bobby started working in club wrestling with local amateur promoter Newt Copple and the next year Bobby started for the Links.

Bobby's first advice for aspiring young wrestlers would be to start sooner: "Get an early start with somebody who knows what's going on and stick with it.

"Sometimes it's pretty dull but hard practices often pays off. You've gotta stick it out."

Bobby thinks that good balance is the most important thing for a wrestler, along with aggressiveness. "I like to work for the pin and catch the other guy on his mistakes," he says, and that 88 per cent pin average the last two years, most of it gained by cradle holds, speaks for itself.

Last summer Bobby participated in the World Junior Olympics in regional tourneys in Lusk, Wyo., and Denver, and qualified for the nationals in Chicago, where he wound up as one of the eight finalists from all over the nation at 106 pounds before another boy was chosen for the trip to Bulgaria.

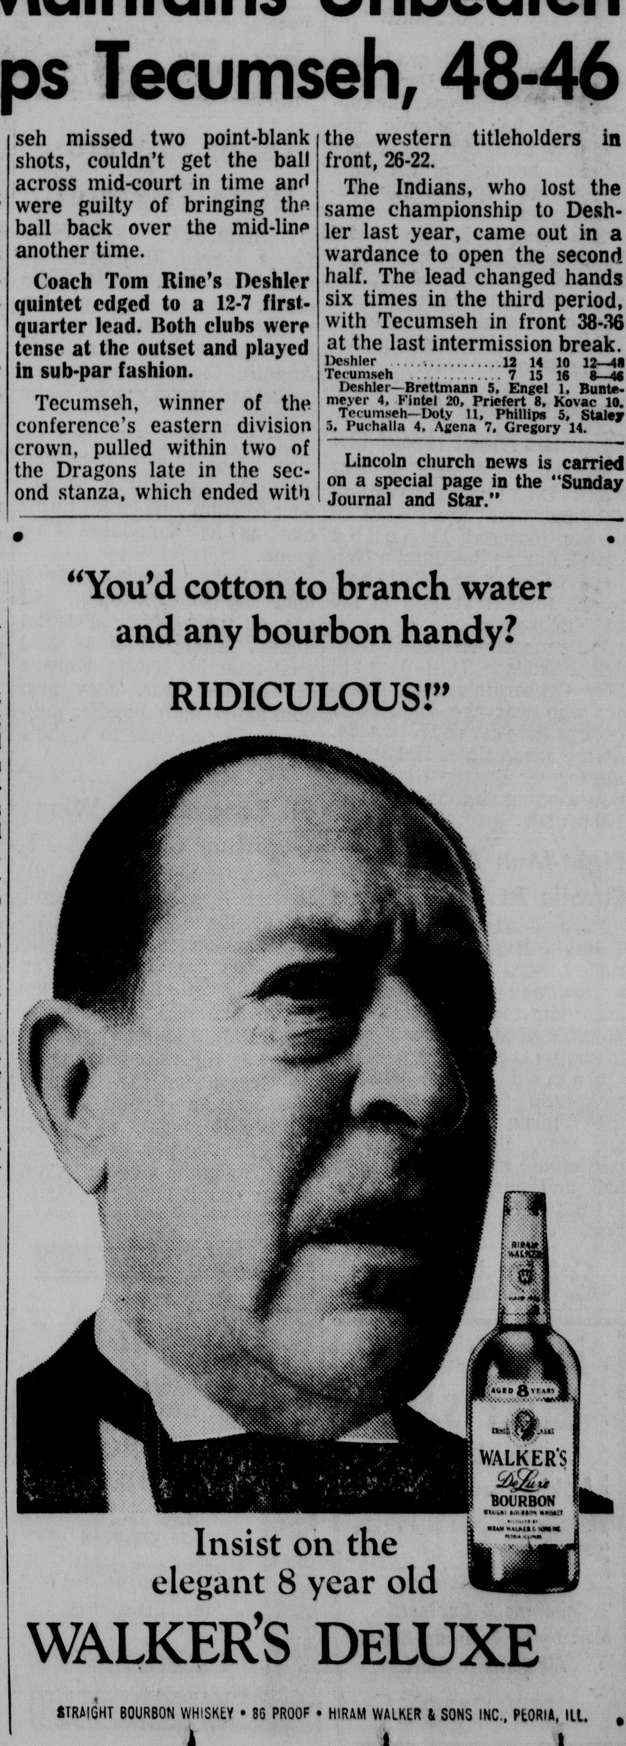

In that tourney, Bobby wrestled his first freestyle competition, as compared to collegiate-style grappling in high school. "There's no riding time in freestyle," he explains. "You get more points faster by takedowns and pins, going on the back."

Somewhere else Bobby's going is college but he hasn't yet made a decision. Meanwhile, he'll play baseball this spring and likely American Legion ball, too. He lettered as a second baseman for the Links a year ago.

Bobby came to Lincoln in the eighth grade from Corpus Christi, Texas, and says, "I never knew wrestling until I came here." But there's a lot of people who know now about him.

"You'd cotton to branch water and any bourbon handy?

RIDICULOUS!"

American Speed Skating Gets Big Prestige Boost In Olympics

© New York Times Service

Grenoble, France — Out of the lonely, almost private, world of American speed skating, the United States has produced four silver medal winners at Grenoble in a sport long dominated by the Soviets and Scandinavians.

Wednesday, America's Terry McDermott charged around the icy oval to take second in the 500 meters — and received a bigger ovation from the crowd than the winner, West German dental student Erhard Keller.

Why all the cheers? Because McDermott was racing last in a field of 27. It was high noon. The sun had mushed the ice so thoroughly that everyone in Terry's heat was at least one full second off the winning pace. In speed skating, as in ski racing, a full second is an eternity.

McDermott had won a gold in this same race at Innsbruck four years ago. He was determined to repeat.

He is not a graceful skater. He doesn't strike out in longe strides from the traditional egg-shell crouch in which the skater's chin in almost touching the tip of his skates in an effort to cut wind resistance.

McDermott races like a track sprinter, almost straight up, arms pumping, legs churning to gain and sustain momentum.

"What he did today was just sheer guts," said the winner, Keller. "If he had started in the earlier heats while the ice was still good, I'd have lost. It's as simple as that."

The audience knew it too. That's what the ovation was about. Coming from the European speed-skating nuts who make up the spectators at the outdoor ice stadium, it was the ultimate tribute to a 27-year-old who is finally retiring after three Olympics.

"What he did today," testified East Germany's coach, "was like someone scrambling up the Matterhorn in a showstorm without a rope. It was next to impossible."

The wonder is that the Americans win anything at all. In the U.S. there are few more than 500 "serious" speed skaters, according to coach Ken Henry.

"It's a small group. You might call us fanatics. Until this year, we didn't even have an artificial rink to practice speed skating on."

Now the U.S. has got one, a million dollar rink at West Allis, Wis., and Henry is optimistic about the future.

Just why he should be is a fair question. The Dutch, who invented the sport, have not only their Canals to skate on, but five new speed rinks as well. In Russia, there are 800,000 registered speed skaters and in a few years, with machine-like inevitability, this figure is due to double. In Norway and Sweden, speed skating is considered the second most prestigious sport, producing just a shade less hysteria than cross-country ski racing.

And what is it like in the U.S.? The question was put to blonde, 21-year-old Patricia Farrell, who just missed making the women's team because of an injury.

"You mean who comes out to watch speed skating in the states? Well, there are the parents — then there are the skaters who aren't skating at that moment."

So why does she race?

"I don't know. I guess we're all a little crazy. But you know, it's the fastest sport in which one uses his own power, completely unassisted. You can go as fast as 30 miles an hour on a straightaway."

Lewis Powers Duke Triumph

Durham, N.C. (AP)—Big Mike Lewis scored 31 points and pulled in 29 rebounds while playing only 26 minutes Wednesday night to power 10th ranked Duke to a 105-65 Atlantic Coast Conference basketball victory over Wake Forest.

Lewis, a 6-7, 225-pound junior, hit on 13 of 18 field goal attempts and had a perfect 5-for-5 from the free throw line as he dominated the game.

The Dukes, gaining a quick lead and never trailing, had one of their better shooting nights, hitting 35 of 85 field goal attempts for an average of 44.6 per cent. They also dominated both boards, pulling in 76 rebounds to Wake's 34.

St. Bonaventure Wins Overtime Clash, 81-71

South Orange, N.J. (AP)—Bill Butler's three-point play after 20 seconds of overtime triggered unbeaten and fourth-ranked St. Bonaventure to an 81-71 basketball victory Wednesday night over lowly Seton Hall, a 12-time loser.

It was the 18th triumph of the season for the Bonnies, who blew an 11-point lead in the last 12 minutes of regulation time and played the final eight minutes without Bob Lanier, their 6-foot-11 center.

Eik Again Decisions GG Foe

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Norfolk—Steve Eik, a 17-year-old Sioux City, Iowa, high school senior, won a second split decision in less than a week over Neligh's Bob Hixson for the 156-pound championship in the Norfolk district Golden Gloves here Wednesday night.

Eik's victory over the defending Norfolk champion earns him the dubious right to compete in the same weight class as Omaha's Hal Mitchell in the Midwest Golden Gloves at Omaha Feb. 23-24.

Eik had earlier won a decision over Hixson in a smoker at South Sioux City a week ago.

The victory also kept Norfolk from sending three brother combinations to the Midwest tournament.

Bob's older brother, Dale, had won the 178-pound title uncontested.

Brothers Gary and Larry Montgomery were crowned champions at 112 and 125, respectively, and brothers Junior and Dick Pelster won championships at 119 and 147, respectively.

Rick Bailey, another 17-year-old senior from Sioux City, Iowa was named the outstading fighter here after scoring a first-round knockout over Everett Westerman of Norfolk in the 165-pound title bout.

Westerman was given the Sportsmanship trophy and Junior Pelster was named most promising boxer. The Petersburg team, coached by Vernon Hixson and Bob Temme, won the team championship. The results:

112—Gary Montgomery, Neligh, TKO'd Ray Oviedo, Norfolk, in second.

119—Junior Pelster, Petersburg, won unanimous decision over Tim Frankl, South Sioux City.

125—Larry Montgomery, Neligh, won unanimous decision over Mike Fox, South Sioux City.

139—Lyle Chicoine, Sioux City, won split decision over Earl Four Cloud, Macy.

147—Dick Pelster, Petersburg, TKO'd Jerry James, Wayne in second.

156—Steve Eik, Sioux City, won split decision over Bob Hixson, Neligh.

165—Rick Bailey, Sioux City, KO'd Everett Westerman, Norfolk, in first.

178—Dale Hixson, Neligh, unopposed.

Heavyweight—James Milek, Wayne, unopposed.

Leschley, 7 Yanks Indoor Net Winners

Salisbury, Md. (AP) — Leschley of Denmark and seven Americans advanced to the quarter-finals with straight set victories Wednesday in the U.S. National Indoor Tennis Championships.

Leschley, top-seeded among the 21 foreign entries, settled down after a jittery start-during which time he complained of photographers and the noise of typewriters in the Civic Center — and defeated Gene Scott of New York 8-6, 6-1.

Charles Pasarell, the top-seeded American seeking his third straight title, was wild at the start of his match with Bobby Wilson of England but finished strong for a 6-4, 6-4 victory.

Arthur Ashe, seeded second behind Pasarell, overpowered Torben Ulrich of Denmark 6-2, 6-1.

In afternoon matches, Americans Marty Riessen, Bob Lutz, Clark Graebner, Stan Smith and Cliff Richey advanced easily through the third round.

Riessen, of Evanston, Ill., scored a mild upset in defeating former United States champion Rafael Osuna of Mexico 6-3, 6-4.

Osuna, seeded fourth among the foreign entries, followed two other foreign seeds to the sidelines.

Lutz, the 1965 U.S. junior champion from Los Angeles, was extremely sharp with a hard flat service and well-drilled passing shots as he ran through veteran Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., 6-2 6-2.

Graebner, the fourth domestic seed and the No. 4 player in the U.S., from Beachwood, Ohio, advanced as 18-year-old Mike Estep of Dallas, was forced to retire after dropping his first service.

Stocks Stage Sizable Rally

New York (AP) — The tight spring of the stock market Wednesday snapped back to a sizable technical rally despite some doleful news. Trading was heavy.

After three straight sessions of sharp decline, the market staged a pretty good recovery—but not as wide as any one of the three preceding days of big losses.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 5.61 to 837.38.

Of 1,484 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, 788 rose and 480 fell. New highs for 1967-'68 totaled 8 and new lows 55.

Volume was 11.39 million shares compared with 10.83 million Tuesday.

The logic of the recovery was peculiarly that of Wall Street.

The market has been sinking mainly because of a crisis in confidence on the international front. Business and economic news has been good on the whole.

The market rallied from the start and widened its gains but backed away nervously on news that an unarmed U.S. Navy plane had been shot down by the Red Chinese. The atmosphere was muddied further by some testimony of Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board in Washington and by another of the long series of blasts against Martin by Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex.

At the same time, the chairman of the nation's largest bank, the Bank of America, raised the possibility of extending federal reserve control to all sectors of the credit market.

In spite of all the disquieting reports, the market chose this day to rally "technically." The feeling was that the list was "oversold" and that it would haul itself up by its bootstraps even before hitting the heralded downside support level of 820 in the Dow industrials.

The higher-priced glamor stocks, as always, paced the recovery as they have led the way on the downtrend.

The New York Stock Exchange index advanced 58 cents to $50.32.

The resilience of the market was such that 13 of the 15 most active stocks advanced while two declined.

Among the 30 stocks represented in the Dow industrials, 20 rose, 7 fell and 3 were unchanged in contrast to a predominance of declines in recent sessions.

Wide recoveries were also made in a rising market on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 4.84 million shares compared with 5.04 million Tuesday.

Corn Futures Prices Climb

Chicago (AP) — Corn futures prices advanced 1¼ cents a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade Wednesday, influenced by an increasing farmer movement to sign up under the government's feed grain program.

While most other grains and soybeans also advanced, wheat prices closed on a weak tone.

New crop corn futures showed the greatest advance, based on the trade belief that the increasing number of farmers signing up so early in the program might mean that 4 or more million acres of feed grain could be withdrawn from production in 1968.

Reports that farmers were holding back soybeans from markets tended to strengthen prices of soybeans.

Wheat futures were under selling pressure throughout the session.

At the close, wheat was unchanged to ¼ of a cent a bushel lower, March 1.49¼-½; corn ¼ to ⅞ higher, March 1.19⅛-¼; oats ⅛ to ¾ higher, March 78 cents; rye ⅛ to ½ higher, March 1.22 and soybeans unchanged to ⅜ higher, March 2.73⅝.

Castro Souvenir In Hanoi Museum

Tokyo (AP)—A kit bag Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro carried before he came to power in 1959 has found its way into Hanoi's Vietnam Revolution Museum, the Vietnam News Agency reported Wednesday.

The North Vietnamese report said Castro presented the bag to Ngo Thi Tuyet, "an elite guerrilla woman" of the Viet Cong, when she visited Havana in July 1967 as a member of the Viet Cong delegation to the first conference of the Latin American Solidarity Organization.

Security Mutual Life Reports Record Increase During 1967

New business, increases and revivals at Security Mutual Life Insurance Co. during 1967 amounted to a record $90,531,000, a 7½% increase over the previous year, D. I. Parker, president of Security Mutual, reported Wednesday at the company's annual policyholders' meeting.

Parker said that life insurance in force increased $51,630,000 for a total of over $606 million, the highest in the company's history.

Other records were reported in admitted assets, which totaled $62,864,000, and premium income, which amounted to $9,034,000.

Total Income

Total income exceeded $12.6 million, surplus for the protection of policyholders increased to over $3,250,000 and new monies invested in mortgages and bonds brought a yield of 6.21% as compared with 5.8% in 1966.

Parker said that as a result of continued high level demand for capital, interest rates rose significantly throughout the year.

Policyholders were advised of the installation of new computer systems, which are designed to help the company serve its policyholders more effectively as well as streamline its work processes and secure valuable research in formation.

Avery Forke was elected to the board of directors. Re-elected were Merle M. Hale, John F. Lawlor and Carl W. Olson. Continuing members are R. E. Campbell, Robert Dobson, William N. Mitten of Fremont, T. A. Sick and Parker.

Sick, who retired, on Feb. 1 as an active employe after 51 years of service, was re-elected to serve as chairman of the board.

Other re-elected officers were Parker, president; John H. Comstock, vice president and general counsel; Leland L. S. Holdt, vice president and agency director; T. M. Yaussi, vice president; Merrill E. Rose, vice president and actuary; Alfred W. Sward, vice president and comptroller; Donald P. Kidney, second vice president and director of personnel; Donald F. Huffman, secretary, and Marvin L. Haase, treasurer.

Second Brother Dies In Vietnam

Jacksonville, Ore., (AP)—After Pfc. James Rowden died in Vietnam two years ago, his brother John enlisted in the Marines because "my brother would have wanted me to."

The Marine Corps told Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rowden Tuesday that John, too, died Saturday after he was shot in action. The Rowdens have two younger boys at home.

Cavanaugh Enters 2nd District Race

JOHN J. CAVANAUGH

Files For Congress

John J. Cavanaugh, chairman of the Douglas County Board of Commissioners, filed Wednesday as a Democratic candidate for Congress from the Second District.

He will face Mrs. Maxine Morrison, wife of Nebraska's three-term Democratic governor, in the May 14 primary. She announced her candidacy earlier, and has until March 15 to formally file.

Cavanaugh, 46, submitted his candidacy papers to Secretary of State Frank Marsh in Lincoln after announcing his intentions earlier at an Omaha news conference.

Held By Cunningham

At stake is the congressional seat held by Republican Glenn Cunningham since 1957.

Cavanaugh is the first congressional candidate to formally file.

He said he will continue as chairman of the county board during his campaign and will support the renomination of President Johnson "all the way."

Spirited Campaign

Predicting a spirited campaign between Mrs. Morrison and himself for Cunningham's seat, he said Democrats are concerned that the Second District have a spokesman in Washington.

He said there is no liaison between Cunningham and the various federal agencies.

Cavanaugh has been a member of the county board since 1957 and chairman the last five years. He was a delegate to the 1964 Democratic national convention.

Group OKs Steering Board To Direct Antipetition Effort

Representatives of business, agriculture, education, labor and government Wednesday decided to organize a steering committee to head a movement opposing the petition drive against the state income tax.

Richard Brown, executive secretary of the Nebraska State School Boards Association, was directed to appoint the steering committee.

Anticipated action of the steering committee includes collecting and disseminating information on the combination state sales-income tax to urge Nebraskans not to sign the petitions calling for a vote on the income tax.

The 20 representatives of various sections of the economy "all expressed opposition to any change in the tax system enacted by the 1967 Legislature," describing it as a "fair and balanced system," according to Brown.

Some of the groups organizing the antipetition movement already are holding tax seminars throughout the state.

The group will meet here Feb. 26 for a workshop on the tax system conducted by Dr. Everett Peterson and Jack Timmons of the University of Nebraska. The two men are leading several similar sessions during the next two weeks sponsored by the Nebraska Farm Bureau.

2 Power Districts Warned By Senator To Reorganize

A state senator said Wednesday he will act to force a reorganization of two major Nebraska power districts if the agencies do not do so on their own by July 21.

Sen. Harold B. Stryker of Rising City said the Loup River and Platte Valley Public Power Districts are "playing footsie" with a 1967 law requiring them to either merge their operations or spread their board of directors over the entire area they serve.

The law takes effect July 21. It permits anyone to petition the State Resources Department to require a realignment.

Loup and Platte have traditionally elected their directors from central Nebraska, although they serve the eastern two-thirds of the state as Nebraska Public Power System partners.

Stryker, a member of the Legislature's power study committee, said the agencies have "indicated they are not taking the new law too seriously and this is too bad. I want to go on record as saying I will file the necessary petition" to force a reorganization.

Stryker said the present setup "does not comply with Legislative intent" and should not be allowed to continue any longer than is legally possible.

Roads To Link

Tokyo — Japan's new 20-year highway plan proposes an expressway system to link the four main Japanese islands at an over-all cost of $150 billion for new roads and for modernizing existing highways.

4,500 Professors, Students Of Law Sign Viet Protest

Washington (AP) — A group of law professors said Wednesday more than 4,500 law teachers and students have signed a statement opposing U.S. policy in Vietnam and calling for de-escalation of the war.

They said lawyers can play a significant role in showing that opposition to present policy is not limited to a few extremists but comes from many citizens.

Dean Louis H. Pollak of Yale University Law School told a news conference more than 500 law teachers and some 4,000 law students in 50 schools had signed the statement.
